BRAKE TESTS END DEC. 15

Police Chief Sets Date to Close Safety Campaign.

Testing of headlights and brakes, as required by a police order in a "safety first" campaign, will be continued until December 15, Chief of Police Hugh McDermott said today.

All garages and automobile repair shops here are co-operating in the movement to reduce traffic hazards by having brakes made safe and the glare of headlights eliminated. Adjustments of brakes and headlights may be made at any garage in the city, but the tests must be made at the McClary Brothers Motor company's garage, the official service station of the Columbiana County Motor Club. No charge is made for the tests.

The campaign is not required by city ordinance, although the traffic measure declares that all automobiles "shall be equipped with two adequate brakes" and "non-glare headlights." "The test is not compulsory, but if motorists are not interested in their own safety and that of others, then the officials will extend no leniency in the event of accident," the chief said. This test is made for the police department by the motor club at the request of the United States bureau of standards in a nation-wide movement to make the streets and highways safe for the pedestrian as well as the driver.

When no reply was received to this communication the trustees requested the mayor to appear before them at their meeting when a demand was made personally that the city pay a rent for use of the township's part of the structure. Under the guidance of the mayor, the trustees made an inspection of the entire building, visiting the first, second and third floors.

Chapter's Share of Fund for Nursing Service is $1,056.

NEED MORE CASH

Aid From Health Board Expected by Chapter.

Contributions in the recent Red Cross roll call campaign totalled $1,368, Mrs. H. C. Ostermann, chairman of the East Liverpool chapter, announced today.

Six hundred and twenty four members were enrolled by the workers, who maintained booths in the stores, theatres, and postoffices. Additional contributions were received thru the mails from business men and manufacturers.

The national organization's share of the fund was $312, and a check for this amount has been forwarded to the national office by W. E. Dunlap, treasurer of the chapter. This leaves $1,056 available for local work.

Resume Service Jan. 1. With financial aid which is expected from the board of health, it is believed that the home nursing service will be re-established after the first of the year. Heretofore the expense of the nursing division has been borne jointly by the Red Cross, the health board and the City Federation of Women's Clubs which handles the sale of Christmas health seals here.

The nursing service was suspended last summer when the Red Cross funds became depleted. Miss Ella Binsley, Lisbon, who was in charge, is now engaged in nursing service in the southern part of West Virginia. It is likely that a meeting of the Red Cross executive committee will be called to consider the nursing problem.

No report of the affair was made to police, and they fear the victims will resort to their own methods of revenge.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The stock market was under the influence of Friday's selling movement in the early trading today, and offerings of railroad and industrial stocks were poured on the market in fairly large volume.

First prices showed the effect of this preponderance of selling orders, with principal irregularity in the railroad and oil stocks. From the opening, however, the high priced industrial and specialties jumped into higher price levels, in some cases gaining 3 to 5 points in the first half hour.

Heavy buying of the railroad stocks was resumed in this period. Missouri Pacific, Katy, Kansas City Southern, Wabash and other of the non-dividend-raised featured a strong and active market, with prices about a point higher on the average. The equipment stocks also reflected the strong financial position of the railroad companies and the placing of large orders for new cars and engines this week.

Pullman was the leader in this latter movement, with a 3 point advance to a new high at 145. Baldwin and New York Air Brake was active at slightly higher prices.

Week-end industrial surveys showed that while the outlook is favorable, industry as a whole has not kept pace with the swift upward movement of prices in the stock market and this injected a note of caution into the speculative markets. After heavy trading in the first hour, the pace slackened in the second and forward movements were confined to a smaller number of stocks.

Specialty stocks continued to attract attention. U. S. Realty made up four points of yesterday's loss, United Drug at 115 1/2, showed a gain of 11 points from yesterday's low. Philadelphia company led the public utility stocks with an advance of 3 1/2 points to a new high at 55 1/2. Columbia Carbon made three at 50 1/2. Radio sold a point higher. General Asphalt exceeded its best previous record by nearly two points.

The coppers held most of their advance, stimulated by the firm market for copper metal. Oils were mostly irregular, though slight improvement was shown by Marland, Pure Oil, Shell Union and California Petroleum.

third floor, in quarters formerly occupied by the city engineer. The room has been repapered, card tables, chairs and other furnishings installed.

Room Open to Public.

The room, according to the mayor, was furnished by parties who have been spending their idle hours in police headquarters on the first floor. Permission to use the room was granted by the mayor, the trustees were told. The mayor advised the trustees that the room was not occupied by any club or organization but was open to any one who wished to use it. The practice of men loafing in the police office interfered with the work of the department, the mayor explained to the trustees.

No rent is charged for the use of the room on the third floor, although it is reported that the light and gas bills are paid by the city.

On the second floor of the building are located the council chamber, mayor's office, ante-room to the mayor's office and a smaller room used for storage purposes. On the first floor are the police office, cell rooms, auditor and treasurer's offices and motor patrol garage.

Seek Ownership Records.

Two reports have reached the township trustees, one to the effect that the township paid 75 per cent of the cost of the building and the city but 25 per cent. The other report was that the building was erected on a 50-50 basis.

"If the township owns one-half of this building, we are entitled to a rental fee from at least that part of it," said a member of the board today.

"We feel that we are protecting the rights of those living outside the city in demanding a rental fee from the city for our part of the building."

Justice J. H. Burgess, a mayor for four terms, and first executive of the municipality, informed the trustees that the building was erected on a 50-50 basis by the city and the township, but no records substantiating this fact can be found. It is believed that records at Lisbon will prove the ownership.

The site on which the city hall stands was deeded to the city for "market house purposes," it is claimed. The other three street intersections at this point are being used for park purposes.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—"I was innocent—I knew I would be freed."

This was the comment today of Mrs. Anna Buzzi, who was acquitted early this morning of the murder of Frederick Schneider, her lover, for whose death she was convicted last year and sentenced to die. Schneider, a contractor, was found shot to death in his automobile on Feb. 26, 1923.

She merely smiled faintly.

Mrs. Buzzi said she expected to make a trip to the south soon, probably going as far as New Orleans. She said she had received offers to act in motion pictures but had accepted none.

Irish Free State Pressed for Relief For Unemployed

DUBLIN, Dec. 6.—The Irish Free State is being pressed on all sides for relief for the unemployed and those in physical distress.

The state has insufficient funds to meet all demands. The appears to be no doubt but that the present winter is going to be the most severe the Irish have experienced in many years.

It is possible the government will be forced to raise a new loan, from the British, if possible.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The stock market was under the influence of Friday's selling movement in the early trading today, and offerings of railroad and industrial stocks were poured on the market in fairly large volume.

First prices showed the effect of this preponderance of selling orders, with principal irregularity in the railroad and oil stocks. From the opening, however, the high priced industrials and specialties jumped into higher price levels, in some cases gaining 3 to 5 points in the first half hour.

Heavy buying of the railroad stocks was resumed in this period. Missouri Pacific, Katy, Kansas City Southern, Wabash and other of the non-dividend-raised featured a strong and active market, with prices about a point higher on the average. The equipment stocks also reflected the strong financial position of the railroad companies and the placing of large orders for new cars and engines this week.

Pullman was the leader in this latter movement, with a 3 point advance to a new high at 145. Baldwin and New York Air Brake was active at slightly higher prices.

Week-end industrial surveys showed that while the outlook is favorable, industry as a whole has not kept pace with the swift upward movement of prices in the stock market and this injected a note of caution into the speculative markets. After heavy trading in the first hour, the pace slackened in the second and forward movements were confined to a smaller number of stocks.

Specialty stocks continued to attract attention, U. S. Realty made up four points of yesterday's loss, United Drug at 116 1/2, showed a gain of 1 point from yesterday's low, Philadelphia company led the public utility stocks with an advance of 3 1/2 points to a new high at 55 1/2.

Columbian Carbon made three at 59 1/2. Radio sold a point higher, General Asphalt exceeded its best previous record by nearly two points.

The coppers held most of their advance, stimulated by the firm market for copper metal. Oils were mostly irregular, though slight improvement was shown by Marland, Pure Oil, Shell Union and California Petroleum.

third floor, in quarters formerly occupied by the city engineer. The room has been repapered, card tables, chairs and other furnishings installed.

Room Open to Public.
The room, according to the mayor, was furnished by parties who have been spending their idle hours in police headquarters on the first floor. Permission to use the room was granted by the mayor, the trustees were told. The mayor advised the trustees that the room was not occupied by any club or organization but was open to any one who wished to use it. The practice of men loafing in the police office interfered with the work of the department, the mayor explained to the trustees.

No rent is charged for the use of the room on the third floor, although it is reported that the light and gas bills are paid by the city.

On the second floor of the building are located the council chamber, mayor's office, ante-room to the mayor's office and a smaller room used for storage purposes. On the first floor are the police office, cell rooms, auditor's and treasurer's offices and motor patrol garage.

Seek Ownership Records.
Two reports have reached the township trustees, one to the effect that the township paid 75 per cent of the cost of the building and the city paid 25 per cent. The other report was that the building was erected on a 50-50 basis.

"If the township owns one-half of this building, we are entitled to a rental fee from at least that part of it," said a member of the board today. "We feel that we are protecting the rights of those living outside the city in demanding a rental fee from the city for our part of the building."

Justice J. H. Burkes, a mayor for four terms, and first executive of the municipality, informed the trustees that the building was erected on a 50-50 basis by the city and the township, but no records substantiating this fact can be found. It is believed that records at Lisbon will prove the ownership.

The site on which the city hall stands was deeded to the city for "market house purposes." It is claimed. The other three street intersections at this point are being used for park purposes.

Governor Prepares to Act.
COLUMBUS, Dec. 6.—While no copy of the report of the grand jury probing the recent Niles, Ohio, riot has been received by Governor Donahue, he said today he would do all within his power to remove the Niles city officials named in the warrant, if evidence warrants such action.

Doubt was expressed by some of the governor's advisers concerning the executive's power to remove Chief of Police Round, since he is a civil service employee. Mayor Kistler was the other official whom the grand jury recommended the governor remove.

ACQUIT WOMAN OF HOMICIDE

Mrs. Anna Buzzi Innocent of Lover's Death.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—"I was innocent—I knew I would be freed."

This was the comment today of Mrs. Anna Buzzi, who was acquitted early this morning of the murder of Frederick Schneider, her lover, for whose death she was convicted last year and sentenced to die. Schneider, a contractor, was found shot to death in his automobile on Feb. 26, 1922.

The jury had been out more than six and a half hours, Mrs. Buzzi heard the jury foreman's verdict "not guilty" calmly.

She merely smiled faintly.

Mrs. Buzzi said she expected to make a trip to the south soon, probably going as far as New Orleans. She said she had received offers to act in motion pictures but had accepted none.

POLICE ARREST PAIR IN HOTEL

$200 Fines, Assessed Man and Woman, are Suspended.

O. C. Gray, of Cambridge, and V. L. Mordock of Canton, who, police say, are not married, or at least were not when they arrived in Wells-ville, but who lived in a local hotel as a married couple, were accorded lenient treatment by Acting Mayor

Frank C. Blackburn when they were taken into police court last night after their arrest.

Gray was fined $200 and costs and his companion was assessed a similar amount. Both fines were suspended by Acting Mayor Blackburn, however, after he reviewed the case and handed out some substantial advice.

The fines were suspended on condition that the pair leave the city.

Police became aware of the presence of the couple through a "tip" from a local source, it is said, and searched hotels here. Failing to find their quarry as first they took up a post near the clerk's desk. After a several hours' wait the man and woman entered the hotel. Later developments furnished evidence for the arrests. Gray, it is said, registered as Bruce Dexter.

How Chrysler Enthusiasm Starts and Grows

It is almost amusing to watch a motorist drive a Chrysler Six for the first time. Here realizes, of course, that the Chrysler Six "has something". Otherwise it could not have registered such an extraordinary success—it could not have so completely monopolized conversation.

Yet he is unprepared for the results the Chrysler Six delivers because all his experience has been based on totally different standards. He associates all the finer qualities of performance, driving and riding with cars of higher price, larger size, greater weight.

Once behind the Chrysler wheel the revelation is not long delayed. He tries the Chrysler Six for power and pull, he lets it out for speed, he tests its agility and alertness, he demonstrates its braking efficiency, he takes some turns at smart speed.

And when he is through there is no case left for the heavy, the cumbersome, the wasteful. He promptly joins the army of Chrysler Six enthusiasts.

How Chrysler Enthusiasm Starts and Grows

It is almost amusing to watch a motorist drive a Chrysler Six for the first time. Here realizes, of course, that the Chrysler Six "has something". Otherwise it could not have registered such an extraordinary success—it could not have so completely monopolized conversation.

Yet he is unprepared for the results the Chrysler Six delivers because all his experience has been based on totally different standards. He associates all the finer qualities of performance, driving and riding with cars of higher price, larger size, greater weight.

Once behind the Chrysler wheel the revelation is not long delayed. He tries the Chrysler Six for power and pull, he lets it out for speed, he tests its agility and alertness, he demonstrates its braking efficiency, he takes some turns at smart speed.

And when he is through there is no case left for the heavy, the cumbersome, the wasteful. He promptly joins the army of Chrysler Six enthusiasts.

Good Work, Commissioner!

Street Commissioner Oliver Buzzard and his co-workers were busy today in the business district cleaning up the accumulation of mud that followed the season's first snowfall. All thoroughfares on which traffic is heavy were given a bath. And as a result, pedestrians and motorists were happy.

This praise is due the street commissioner, for like all public officials he is not infrequently criticised when conditions over which it is presumed he has control are not eradicated. However, the question of funds to carry on is an important factor in enabling him to cope with his various problems. And if money is not available, he is powerless to act.

The uptown district's appearance this morning showed much improvement by reason of the commissioner's labor. If some way to remove slush on streets in outlying sections is found the commissioner will add more friends to his increasing list. And, too, the expenditure of a few dollars in labor on some of the alleys would prove popular.

Keep up the good work, Mr. Commissioner!

No More "Short Sessions"

The congressional session now in progress at Washington is recognized as an anachronism. Also a contradiction. The country is represented by a legislative body that it repudiated last month at the polls. And congress goes ahead, just about the same, with policy and program changed a little, perhaps, but not much, by the various mandates presumably given on November 4.

This is said to be the only country where such a situation is possible. Until lately, the country did not mind. Now it is becoming sensitive about the matter. An evidence of sensitiveness is the prevalent tendency to refer to the present session as a "lame duck congress."

It is not congress' fault. It is nobody's fault. The plan of deferring the official beginning of a new administration until the March 4 following the election, and the actual assembling of the new congress until December following the president's inauguration, worked all right for a century or more. But now there is a demand for speeding up governmental processes along with other things and making representative government represent more nearly the popular will of last week or last month, rather than last year.

So it is said that this will probably be the last "lame duck" session of congress. A proposed amendment would abolish the short session and make the president's term and likewise the term of the newly-elected congress begin on January 1 following the national election. The change was approved by the senate last session and seems likely to be approved by the house this winter. If it goes before the country, it will probably be ratified without delay.

Presidential Economy

President Coolidge, in a trip to Chicago, gives up his private car and travels like a middle-class business man. His party occupies a compartment car, with a mere drawing room for the president and his wife. Anybody is free to pass through such a car.

This is democratic. Also economical. Not that it saves Mr. Coolidge anything. Uncle Sam pays the president's traveling expenses. But it saves the government $1,700, and Mr. Coolidge hopes it will set a good example to department heads and bureau chiefs, and possibly have some effect on congress.

The moral effect should go farther than that. It should influence the expenditures of private citizens, in travel and in a hundred other things. Lavish spending is coming to be the rule in America. There is considerable saving, in prosperous times, but not what there ought to be.

City people who want to get out into the country are buying farms from farmers who want to get into the city, and in a generation or two their families will be reversing the process.

Now France fears a "commercial war with Germany." That's better than a military war. Especially for the ultimate consumer.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

THE FOUR "R'S"

According to modern school children, education includes four "R's"—reading, writing, arithmetic and radio.

Children seem to be born with understanding of the new discoveries born with them. A boy of 15 will manage and understand an automobile by intuition better than his father. A young child will walk up to a screeching, squawking radio, turn knobs and get music instead of the "static" produced under adult management.

As regards the nature of electricity, what it is, why it works, the youngest child knows as much as any scientist.

In a tropical forest, when travelers have passed on leaving a fire burning, the monkeys come down, sit around to warm their hands. They don't know what it is that warms them, and never add a stick of wood to the fire.

Civilized men sit around the mystery of electricity, like so many monkeys around a dying fire.

MEN LIKE VARIETY

Dr. Marie Munk, of Berlin, woman admitted to the German bar, says the trouble with marriage is "man's fondness for variety." It is pitiful, but true, that the average man will stick to one brand of cigars longer than he will stick to one wife.

According to Dr. Munk men leave their wives for somebody younger "for mere desire for a change." That's all true, but what of it?

Fidelity is even rarer among monkeys than among men. The object of marriage is to change men from monkeys to real men, and marriage is doing the work gradually. Infidelity, at least, is not a thing to brag of, and take for granted.

THE VALUE OF SCIENCE

A report of the Smithsonian Institute shows that our highly civilized government appropriates less than one-third of one per cent of its annual budget for science and research.

Ten times that appropriation would be too light and come back to the government in increased wealth a hundred times over.

How poor would this nation be without steam engines, automobiles, tractors, steel-making methods, chemical knowledge of fertilizers and other "modern improvements" all born of science.

The men of wealth do little for scientific research, outside of their own industrial plans. One scientific invention, getting nitrogen out of the air, at a low price, would supply cheap food and properly used in charity, would do more for the poor and hungry than all the money given from the beginning of time.

The Italian nobleman, pointing to the beggars at his back gate covered with sores and eating scraps of food thrown to them, said, quite seriously, "these be my hounds with which I hunt salvation."

If feeding the poor means salvation, scientific research could be made to pay dividends hereafter as well as now on earth.

LIONS, ALIVE AND DEAD

Professor Jeams, leading British scientist, tells the Royal Astronomical society that the great age to which suns are now known to live makes it quite certain that the universe and its millions of planets are populated by thinking beings.

Suns, thought to last only a few million years, when ignorance of radio-active forces led to the supposition that the suns were actually burning up, are now known to last many billions of years. That gives plenty of time for planets to cool off and become habitable.

But why should hot planets or suns be uninhabitable. A maggot, looking at a lion, would say, "that's uninhabitable," with the lion dead and cold, the same maggot would say, "there's a nice, comfortable home for maggots. Now, it's a habitable lion."

One single mind inhabits the lion's body, while it lives. Many maggots inhabit it when it is dead. That may be true of blazing suns.

WHO'S WHO

JOHN BURKE.

Three times governor of North Dakota Treasurer of the United States. The honors, distinction and power that go with the offices named came to John Burke.

Also came offers of financial opportunities from friends who knew that his prestige, experience in public affairs and wide acquaintance list would help them.

And then the crash! Now John Burke, "Honest John," has come back.

Always a heavy favorite with citizens of North Dakota, who, although he is a member of the Democratic party, while the state is overwhelmingly Republican, elected him three times as governor, "Honest John," as his friends have dubbed him, made a sweeping victory in the race for membership on the North Dakota supreme court bench.

"Honest John's" experiences since the day he left North Dakota for Washington as treasury head, April 1, 1913, are colorful.

After serving in the treasury he returned to North Dakota. Lucrative offers from New York financiers caused him finally to associate himself with Louis Kardos, New York broker, organizing the brokerage firm of Kardos & Burke. The firm, caught in a swirl of brokerage failures, went to "the wall" on February 1, 1922.

It was here that "Honest John's" friends claim he lived up to his sobriquet. Every cent of his personal fortune was turned over by Burke to the firm's creditors, even a paid up life insurance policy, and at the age of 63 he faced life admittedly penniless.

Burke was born in Keokuk county, Iowa, February 25, 1859. He attended the public schools there and later was graduated from State University of Iowa with the degree of LL.B.

For a while he practiced law in Des Moines, and in 1888 moved to North Dakota.

In 1889 he was elected to his first public office, that of county judge of Rolette county. Later he was sent to the house of representatives and subsequent to that, to the senate.

DINNER STORIES

On a football field a man with a loud voice was boasting to a party of admiring youngsters of the doughty deeds he had done on the football field in days gone by. Suddenly he turned his attention to the band.

"Ah!" he observed, "those fellows play decently, but they've fallen off terribly since I was a member of the band."

"What!" ejaculated one of his hearers. "You played with that lot?"

"Certainly," was the reply; "I was with them for years."

The crowd roared and the boastful one hastily retired on learning that the band in question was composed of harmless inmates of the local lunatic asylum.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By ETHEL MARSHALL.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Revival of entertaining at the Mansion House, the lord mayor of London's palace in the city, is one of the most pleasant diversions to which London society is looking forward during the coming season.

The new lord mayor and the lady mayoress (Sir Alfred and Lady Bower) have a 20-year-old daughter, and Lady Bower is determined that there shall be plenty of parties for young people during her 12 months' stay at the Mansion House. Two winters ago Lady Bower and her daughter spent three months in Miami, and American friends they made there may now be able to enjoy London hospitality of a unique kind.

American debutantes now in London are already looking forward to the Buckingham palace "courts." It is now almost definitely settled that there will be two extra ones about February.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Harry Brown, of Pittsburgh, will undoubtedly again be among the leading American hostesses.

Mrs. James Corrigan, back from India, is looking for a big house, as the scene of her last social splendors; Mrs. Keppel's stately Carlton terrace has been relet for a long time.

Mrs. W. R. Lindsay, of Boston and Palm Beach, has taken a big house in Hamilton place, Park lane. Her daughter, Pamela, is to be presented next spring.

Only the enormously rich, it seems, can now take over a London house, even of modest size, for the season. Hence, much of the entertaining by Americans will be done in the hotels. The Vanderbilts now live and do all their entertaining at Claridge's.

By special request of Queen Mary, the two babies of Princess Mary have been taken to spend two weeks at Buckingham palace. They are in their mother's old nursery, playing with the same old toys.

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles have opened only part of their town house and are dining out most of the time. The princess is dancing every night, Prince Henry being a favorite partner. Viscount Lascelles seldom dances.

It is believed, by the way, that when Mr. Baldwin announces his New Year honors a royal dukedom for Prince Henry will be in the list.

Though this is not definitely settled there is a general impression about the court that the prince will take the title of Duke of Edinburgh, a title last borne by the second son of Queen Victoria. Prince Henry would take this title at the special request of the Queen of Rumania, the late duke's eldest daughter.

The Prince of Wales has arranged to hunt with the Whaddon Chase hounds this season.

His hunters already have arrived at the hunt stables at Linslade. During his visit, the prince will be entertained by Lord and Lady Dalmeny.

The latest American engagement announced in London is that of Miss Marion Mitchell, of Mayfair, to Mr. Ivan Stancloff, son of the late Bulgarian minister in London. The bridegroom's sister, a brilliant young woman and an accomplished linguist, recently had a diplomatic appointment in Washington.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—In a fashionable strip of countryside near New York there is a fine colonial home—with kennels, garage and terraced lawn. There are five servants aside from the master, mistress and three children.

The home is a tribute to the interior decorator's art and there are several paintings with a purchase price running into five figures. Recently I spent an afternoon in the home. The owner is a man I knew only as a head waiter.

He has bowed and scraped at my approach just as he has to thousands of others who have visited the place where he is, overlord of table reservations. And yet here he was living in a manner few of us ever expect to achieve.

My interest in him followed a talk one day with one of the highest priced ear specialists in New York. At a little dinner party he told me of an operation he had performed on the wife of the head waiter. A few weeks after the operation he was called late at night on the phone.

It was the head waiter. His wife was restless and he was worried. "Can't you run out to see her?" he asked the specialist. He was told there was no way for him to get there at that hour of night—and rather jokingly added "unless you send a special train for me."

"I'll do it at once," he declared and in an hour the specialist was riding there in a special train. He had spent several hundred dollars as casually as one buys a cigar just to be satisfied that all was well with his wife.

One wonders if in his genuflections at a cafe door he does not conceal the grin at bright young show-offs who airily tender the ten and twenty dollar bill and trot home to hall bedrooms.

A chance punch on the nose sent a prominent movie star to fame and fortune. He was for many years an extra. They tried him in a more prominent part but his nose wouldn't film. He became discouraged and took to drink. One night he was in a cafe when a row started and lunging over to the group, peered over a shoulder to see what the trouble was and wham—a misdirected blow landed on his nose. Reced, it was o. k. for film purposes.

A cowboy from Arizona writes me that on their bunkhouse wall is a clipping of an article I had written about shuddering at the howling of calves receiving the hot branding iron on a Texas ranch. Over the article in chalk is lettered "O, Violet!" And he adds with sarcasm: "I suppose a man who wears a wrist watch and spats would hesitate at killing a chicken." He's right. I would.

I am not, however, without certain daring. Yesterday I left a cafe without tipping the hat check boy.

Clothes may not be indicative of daring anyway. A Britisher who has bagged many lions in Africa and was among the first to brave the dangers of Chilkoot Pass in Alaska sports a monocle.

THE LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—For the past 25 years the first week in December has been celebrated by the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago. The finest cattle, horses, sheep and hogs, many of them wearing blue ribbons from state and county fairs, are brought to this supreme court of the live stock industry for the final selection of champions.

This impressive show takes place in a group of buildings which covers nearly 20 acres. It attracts several hundred thousand visitors who represent every possible angle of live stock interests. Breeders, butchers and middlemen are out in full force, and grain dealers, leather manufacturers and representatives of the woolen trade. These come from all parts of the country, and even from Canada and abroad.

Ultimate consumers who buy the meat, wool and leather are also attracted, but they rarely journey from any great distance to attend the show. More than 1,000 of the experts who study the animals with critical eyes are boys and girls. Last year these members of the boys' and girls' agricultural clubs came from 46 states. Each one had won the trip as a prize for fine work in stock breeding or management. A feature of the show is the judging of carcasses, and the champion beef carcass last year came from a calf which a young Iowa girl had raised in her club work.

The great gathering of live stock interests creates an unusual opportunity for conferences. Consequently, from 25 to 50 organizations hold their annual meetings and conventions at this time. Altogether, the exposition justifies its claim to being the greatest show of the kind on earth.

TO IMPROVE THE GRADE

The main purpose back of the show is always to improve the grade of stock. The show was first planned in 1899, because the live stock industry was not keeping pace with the country's progress. Western ranges were being cropped bare of grass as a result of careless grazing methods. There was very little information available to show the advantages of better stock, although experts were sure that pure-bred animals were more profitable in the long run. It was decided that a big exposition would be the best possible way of putting facts before the very eyes of the industry and of promoting knowledge and interest.

The efficiency of the scheme is impressive, because at an exposition of this sort every angle and every detail of a great, complex industry can be studied in its relation to other factors. Few consumers realize that the quality of a cut of beefsteak may depend upon the ancestry of the cow, the way it was fed, the conditions under which it was fattened, and many incidentals. But the live stock industry now understands the financial importance of each step in the production of meat.

Stock raisers have been shown that in common grade stock fat is deposited around the internal organs instead of being interspersed among the more valuable cuts of lean meat. They have also been shown, however, that by intelligent breeding a different sort of animal can be produced, one that is ideal for market purposes.

The department of agriculture describes this ideal beef breed as a low-set animal of straight lines, broad and deep bodied, and smoothly covered with a thick, even layer of firm flesh. This type produces the largest proportion of the highest priced cuts of beef. The meat is firm and velvety, light red, somewhat marbled and juicy; whereas the meat from poorer stock is soft, moist, very dark red, coarse grained, stringy, and has no marbling of white.

The department goes so far as to say that the best cut from a low-grade animal may be inferior in texture, flavor and juiciness to a less choice cut from high-grade beef.

Showing the industry exactly how to manage so as to produce the ideal cow or steer with minimum expense and maximum profit is a task at which breeders' organizations and the federal and state governments are constantly working. The department of agriculture has seized the opportunity afforded by the live stock exposition this year to produce a side show of its own in which it demonstrates some striking facts.

THE TALE OF TWO STEERS

The first exhibit presented by the department is entitled "Two Steers on the Same Trail." By following the paintings and charts an observer can trace the history of two steers from a Colorado ranch to the dinner table. One of these animals started out in life with average good heredity; the other with average common heredity. That is, neither represents an extreme case.

The good calf, when sold to be fattened, weighed 350 pounds and brought $7.71 per hundredweight. The common calf weighed 310 pounds and brought $5.97 per hundredweight. In the Illinois corn belt, where the next scene takes place, it cost the feeder $13 to put 100 pounds of flesh on the good steer, but he had to invest $15.78 to add 100 pounds to the common steer. At market, the carcass of the good steer represented choice meat and brought $109.07, but the common steer brought only $53.64.

The department's next lesson is on the pig, and is called "A pound of pork every seven minutes." The man who has attained this rate of production has no exceptional advantages. He is an example of what careful scientific management will do on a 160-acre hog farm in Illinois.

With only one part-time helper, the farmer raised 561 hogs and sold 78,700 pounds of live pork in a year. His net income was $3,873. The exhibit shows how he systematically rotated his feed crops and how he planned the best time of year to fatten his stock so as to bring in the highest net return.

Ideals in hog raising have changed in the past few years. A hog overloaded with fat is no longer regarded as most profitable since an abundance of cotton seed oil has reduced the demand for lard. The grower's aim is to produce an animal that will yield the largest amount of ham, bacon and cured pork, and, in the case of the cow, this aim is attained by attention to breeding, feeding and management.

The same line of development is shown in other branches of the live stock industry. Lambs graded as choice brought 13.2 cents a pound in Chicago during October, but lambs grading common averaged only 10 cents. Differences in weight are even more striking. A flock of choice lambs averaged 82 pounds apiece when put on the market, but a flock of scrub lambs averaged only 35 pounds.

So far as the horse is concerned, it is interesting to find that owners of pure bred report them to be more intelligent and more easily handled than an average nag.

The live stock show is a maze of attractions, but they all point to the same great lesson, which is that success consists in making every link of the chain strong. Fine stock of scientific feeding alone will not insure profits if the health of the animals is not guarded, or if they are prepared for market at an unfavorable time.

Good Work, Commissioner!

Street Commissioner Oliver Buzzard and his co-workers were busy today in the business district cleaning up the accumulation of mud that followed the season's first snowfall. All thoroughfares on which traffic is heavy were given a bath. And as a result, pedestrians and motorists were happy.

This praise is due the street commissioner, for like all public officials he is not infrequently criticised when conditions over which it is presumed he has control are not eradicated. However, the question of funds to carry on is an important factor in enabling him to cope with his various problems. And if money is not available, he is powerless to act.

The uptown district's appearance this morning showed much improvement by reason of the commissioner's labor. If some way to remove slush on streets in outlying sections is found the commissioner will add more friends to his increasing list. And, too, the expenditure of a few dollars in labor on some of the alleys would prove popular.

Keep up the good work, Mr. Commissioner!

No More "Short Sessions"

The congressional session now in progress at Washington is recognized as an anachronism. Also a contradiction. The country is represented by a legislative body that it repudiated last month at the polls. And congress goes ahead, just about the same, with policy and program changed a little, perhaps, but not much, by the various mandates presumably given on November 4.

This is said to be the only country where such a situation is possible. Until lately, the country did not mind. Now it is becoming sensitive about the matter. An evidence of sensitiveness is the prevalent tendency to refer to the present session as a "lame duck congress."

It is not congress' fault. It is nobody's fault. The plan of deferring the official beginning of a new administration until the March 4 following the election, and the actual assembling of the new congress until December following the president's inauguration, worked all right for a century or more. But now there is a demand for speeding up governmental processes along with other things and making representative government represent more nearly the popular will of last week or last month, rather than last year.

So it is said that this will probably be the last "lame duck" session of congress. A proposed amendment would abolish the short session and make the president's term and likewise the term of the newly-elected congress begin on January 1 following the national election. The change was approved by the senate last session and seems likely to be approved by the house this winter. If it goes before the country, it will probably be ratified without delay.

Presidential Economy

President Coolidge, in a trip to Chicago, gives up his private car and travels like a middle-class business man. His party occupies a compartment car, with a mere drawing room for the president and his wife. Anybody is free to pass through such a car.

This is democratic. Also economical. Not that it saves Mr. Coolidge anything. Uncle Sam pays the president's traveling expenses. But it saves the government $1,700, and Mr. Coolidge hopes it will set a good example to department heads and bureau chiefs, and possibly have some effect on congress.

The moral effect should go farther than that. It should influence the expenditures of private citizens, in travel and in a hundred other things. Lavish spending is coming to be the rule in America. There is considerable saving, in prosperous times, but not what there ought to be.

City people who want to get out into the country are buying farms from farmers who want to get into the city, and in a generation or two their families will be reversing the process.

Now France fears a "commercial war with Germany." That's better than a military war. Especially for the ultimate consumer.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

THE FOUR "R'S"

According to modern school children, education includes four "R's"—reading, writing, arithmetic and radio.

Children seem to be born with understanding of the new discoveries born with them. A boy of 15 will manage and understand an automobile by intuition better than his father. A young child will walk up to a screeching, squawking radio, turn knobs and get music instead of the "static" produced under adult management.

As regards the nature of electricity, what it is, why it works, the youngest child knows as much as any scientist.

In a tropical forest, when travelers have passed on leaving a fire burning, the monkeys come down, sit around to warm their hands. They don't know what it is that warms them, and never add a stick of wood to the fire.

Civilized men sit around the mystery of electricity, like so many monkeys around a dying fire.

MEN LIKE VARIETY

Dr. Marie Munk, of Berlin, woman admitted to the German bar, says the trouble with marriage is "man's fondness for variety." It is pitiful, but true, that the average man will stick to one brand of cigars longer than he will stick to one wife.

According to Dr. Munk men leave their wives for somebody younger "for mere desire for a change." That's all true, but what of it?

Fidelity is even rarer among monkeys than among men. The object of marriage is to change men from monkeys to real men, and marriage is doing the work gradually. Infidelity, at least, is not a thing to brag of, and take for granted.

THE VALUE OF SCIENCE

A report of the Smithsonian Institute shows that our highly civilized government appropriates less than one-third of one per cent of its annual budget for science and research.

Ten times that appropriation would be too light and come back to the government in increased wealth a hundred times over.

How poor would this nation be without steam engines, automobiles, tractors, steel-making methods, chemical knowledge of fertilizers and other "modern improvements" all born of science.

The men of wealth do little for scientific research, outside of their own industrial plans. One scientific invention, getting nitrogen out of the air, at a low price, would supply cheap food and properly used in charity, would do more for the poor and hungry than all the money given from the beginning of time.

The Italian nobleman, pointing to the beggars at his back gate covered with sores and eating scraps of food thrown to them, said, quite seriously, "these be my hounds with which I hunt salvation."

If feeding the poor means salvation, scientific research could be made to pay dividends hereafter as well as now on earth.

LIONS, ALIVE AND DEAD

Professor Jeans, leading British scientist, tells the Royal Astronomical society that the great age to which suns are now known to live makes it quite certain that the universe and its millions of planets are populated by thinking beings.

Suns, thought to last only a few million years, when ignorance of radio-active forces led to the supposition that the suns were actually burning up, are now known to last many billions of years. That gives plenty of time for planets to cool off and become habitable.

But why should hot planets or suns be uninhabitable. A maggot, looking at a lion, would say, "that's uninhabitable," with the lion dead and cold, the same maggot would say, "there's a nice, comfortable home for maggots. Now, it's a habitable lion."

One single mind inhabits the lion's body, while it lives. Many maggots inhabit it when it is dead. That may be true of blazing suns.

WHO'S WHO

JOHN BURKE.

Three times governor of North Dakota Treasurer of the United States. The honors, distinction and power that go with the offices named came to John Burke.

Also came offers of financial opportunities from friends who knew that his prestige, experience in public affairs and wide acquaintance list would help them.

And then the crash! Now John Burke, "Honest John," has come back.

Always a heavy favorite with citizens of North Dakota, who, although he is a member of the Democratic party, while the state is overwhelmingly Republican, elected him three times as governor, "Honest John," as his friends have dubbed him, made a sweeping victory in the race for membership on the North Dakota supreme court bench.

"Honest John's" experiences since the day he left North Dakota for Washington as treasury head, April 1, 1913, are colorful.

After serving in the treasury he returned to North Dakota. Lucrative offers from New York financiers caused him finally to associate himself with Louis Kardos, New York broker, organizing the brokerage firm of Kardos & Burke. The firm, caught in a swirl of brokerage failures, went to "the wall" on February 1, 1922.

It was here that "Honest John's" friends claim he lived up to his sobriquet. Every cent of his personal fortune was turned over by Burke to the firm's creditors, even a paid up life insurance policy, and at the age of 63 he faced life admittedly penniless.

Burke was born in Keokuk county, Iowa, February 25, 1859. He attended the public schools there and later was graduated from State University of Iowa with the degree of LL.B.

For a while he practiced law in Des Moines, and in 1888 moved to North Dakota.

In 1889 he was elected to his first public office, that of county judge of Rolette county. Later he was sent to the house of representatives and subsequent to that, to the senate.

DINNER STORIES

On a football field a man with a loud voice was boasting to a party of admiring youngsters of the doughty deeds he had done on the football field in days gone by. Suddenly he turned his attention to the band.

"Ah!" he observed, "those fellows play decently, but they've fallen off terribly since I was a member of the band."

"What!" ejaculated one of his hearers. "You played with that lot?"

"Certainly," was the reply; "I was with them for years."

The crowd roared and the boastful one hastily retired on learning that the band in question was composed of harmless inmates of the local insane asylum.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By ETHEL MARSHALL.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Revival of entertaining at the Mansion House, the lord mayor of London's palace in the city, is one of the most pleasant diversions to which London society is looking forward during the coming season.

The new lord mayor and the lady mayoress (Sir Alfred and Lady Bower) have a 20-year-old daughter, and Lady Bower is determined that there shall be plenty of parties for young people during her 12 months' stay at the Mansion House. Two winters ago Lady Bower and her daughter spent three months in Miami, and American friends they made there may now be able to enjoy London hospitality of a unique kind.

American debutantes now in London are already looking forward to the Buckingham palace "courts." It is now almost definitely settled that there will be two extra ones about February.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Harry Brown, of Pittsburgh, will undoubtedly again be among the leading American hostesses.

Mrs. James Corrigan, back from India, is looking for a big house, as the scene of her last social splendor. Mrs. Koppel's stately Carlton terrace has been relet for a long time.

Mrs. W. R. Lindsay, of Boston and Palm Beach, has taken a big house in Hamilton place, Park Lane. Her daughter, Pamela, is to be presented next spring.

Only the enormously rich, it seems, can now take over a London house, even of modest size, for the season. Hence, much of the entertaining by Americans will be done in the hotels. The Vanderbilts now live and do all their entertaining at Claridge's.

By special request of Queen Mary, the two babies of Princess Mary have been taken to spend two weeks at Buckingham palace. They are in their mother's old nursery, playing with the same old toys.

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles have opened only part of their town house and are dining out most of the time. The princess is dancing every night, Prince Henry being a favorite partner. Viscount Lascelles seldom dances.

It is believed, by the way, that when Mr. Baldwin announces his New Year honors a royal dukedom for Prince Henry will be in the list.

Though this is not definitely settled there is a general impression about the court that the prince will take the title of Duke of Edinburgh, a title last borne by the second son of Queen Victoria. Prince Henry would take this title at the special request of the Queen of Rumania, the late duke's eldest daughter.

The Prince of Wales has arranged to hunt with the Whaddon Chase hounds this season.

His hunters already have arrived at the hunt stables at Linlade. During his visit, the prince will be entertained by Lord and Lady Dalmeny.

The latest American engagement announced in London is that of Miss Marion Mitchell, of Mayfair, to Mr. Ivan Stancioff, son of the late Bulgarian minister in London. The bridegroom's sister, a brilliant young woman and an accomplished linguist, recently had a diplomatic appointment in Washington.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—In a fashionable strip of countryside near New York there is a fine colonial home—with kennels, garage and terraced lawn. There are five servants aside from the master, mistress and three children.

The home is a tribute to the interior decorator's art and there are several paintings with a purchase price running into five figures. Recently I spent an afternoon in the home. The owner is a man I knew only as a head waiter.

He has bowed and scraped at my approach just as he has to thousands of others who have visited the place where he is, overlord of table reservations. And yet here he was living in a manner few of us ever expect to achieve.

My interest in him followed a talk one day with one of the highest priced ear specialists in New York. At a little dinner party he told me of an operation he had performed on the wife of the head waiter. A few weeks after the operation he was called late at night on the phone.

It was the head waiter. His wife was restless and he was worried. "Can't you run out to see her?" he asked the specialist. He was told there was no way for him to get there at that hour of night—and rather jokingly added "unless you send a special train for me."

"I'll do it at once," he declared and in an hour the specialist was riding there in a special train. He had spent several hundred dollars as casually as one buys a cigar just to be satisfied that all was well with his wife.

One wonders if in his genuflections at a cafe door he does not conceal the grin at bright young show-offs who airily tender the ten and twenty dollar bill and trot home to hall bedrooms.

A chance punch on the nose sent a prominent movie star to fame and fortune. He was for many years an extra. They tried him in a more prominent part but his nose wouldn't film. He became discouraged and took to drink. One night he was in a cafe when a row started and lurching over to the group, peered over a shoulder to see what the trouble was and wham—a misdirected blow landed on his nose. Reset, it was a o. k. for film purposes.

A cowboy from Arizona writes me that on their bunkhouse wall is a clipping of an article I had written about shuddering at the howling of calves receiving the hot branding iron on a Texas ranch. Over the article in chalk is lettered "O, Violet!" And he adds with sarcasm: "I suppose a man who wears a wrist watch and spats would hesitate at killing a chicken." He's right, I would.

I am not, however, without certain daring. Yesterday I left a cafe without tipping the hat check boy.

Clothes may not be indicative of daring anyway. A Britisher who has bagged many lions in Africa and was among the first to brave the dangers of Chilkoot Pass in Alaska sports a monocle.

Thirty English actors and actresses are either being starred or essay leading roles in as many Broadway plays. In England only one American girl appears to be making any noticeable success. She is Tallulah Bankhead, who is appearing in a mystery melodrama.

I finally met the man with whom I exchange friendly greetings in an office building across from my window. It develops he was born and raised 2 miles from a town on the Ohio river where I spent much of my boyhood.

THE LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—For the past 25 years the first week in December has been celebrated by the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago. The finest cattle, horses, sheep and hogs, many of them wearing blue ribbons from state and county fairs, are brought to this supreme court of the live stock industry for the final selection of champions.

This impressive show takes place in a group of buildings which covers nearly 20 acres. It attracts several hundred thousand visitors who represent every possible angle of live stock interests. Breeders, butchers and middlemen are out in full force, and grain dealers, leather manufacturers and representatives of the woolen trade. These come from all parts of the country, and even from Canada and abroad.

Ultimate consumers who buy the meat, wool, lard and leather are also attracted, but they rarely journey from any great distance to attend the show. More than 1,000 of the experts who study the animals with critical eyes are boys and girls. Last year these members of the boys' and girls' agricultural clubs came from 46 states. Each one had won the trip as a prize for fine work in stock breeding or management. A feature of the show is the judging of carcasses, and the champion beef carcass last year came from a calf which a young Iowa girl had raised in her club work.

The great gathering of live stock interests creates an unusual opportunity for conferences. Consequently, from 25 to 50 organizations hold their annual meetings and conventions at this time. Altogether, the exposition justifies its claim to being the greatest show of the kind on earth.

TO IMPROVE THE GRADE

The main purpose back of the show is always to improve the grade of stock. The show was first planned in 1899, because the live stock industry was not keeping pace with the country's progress. Western ranges were being cropped bare of grass as a result of careless grazing methods. There was very little information available to show the advantages of better stock, although experts were sure that pure-bred animals were more profitable in the long run. It was decided that a big exposition would be the best possible way of putting facts before the very eyes of the industry and of promoting knowledge and interest.

The efficiency of the scheme is impressive, because at an exposition of this sort every angle and every detail of a great, complex industry can be studied in its relation to other factors. Few consumers realize that the quality of a cut of beefsteak may depend upon the ancestry of the cow, the way it was fed, the conditions under which it was fattened, and many incidentals. But the live stock industry now understands the financial importance of each step in the production of meat.

Stock raisers have been shown that in common grade stock fat is deposited around the internal organs instead of being interspersed among the more valuable cuts of lean meat. They have also been shown, however, that by intelligent breeding a different sort of animal can be produced, one that is ideal for market purposes.

The department of agriculture describes this ideal beef breed as a low-set animal of straight lines, broad and deep bodied, and smoothly covered with a thick, even layer of firm flesh. This type produces the largest proportion of the highest priced cuts of beef. The meat is firm and velvety, light red, somewhat marbled and juicy; whereas the meat from poorer stock is soft, moist, very dark red, coarse grained, stringy, and has no marbling of white.

The department goes so far as to say that the best cut from a low-grade animal may be inferior in texture, flavor and juiciness to a less choice cut from high-grade beef.

Showing the industry exactly how to manage so as to produce the ideal cow or steer with minimum expense and maximum profit is a task at which breeders' organizations and the federal and state governments are constantly working. The department of agriculture has seized the opportunity afforded by the live stock exposition this year to produce a side show of its own in which it demonstrates some striking facts.

THE TALE OF TWO STEERS

The first exhibit presented by the department is entitled "Two Steers on the Same Trail." By following the paintings and charts an observer can trace the history of two steers from a Colorado ranch to the dinner table. One of these animals started out in life with average good heredity; the other with average common heredity. That is, neither represents an extreme case.

The good calf, when sold to be fattened, weighed 250 pounds and brought $7.71 per hundredweight. The common calf weighed 310 pounds and brought $5.07 per hundredweight. In the Illinois corn belt, where the next scene takes place, it cost the feeder $13 to put 100 pounds of flesh on the good steer, but he had to invest $15.78 to add 100 pounds to the common steer. At market, the carcass of the good steer represented choice meat and brought $109.07, but the common steer brought only $53.64.

The department's next lesson is on the pig, and is called "A pound of pork every seven minutes." The man who has attained this rate of production has no exceptional advantages. He is an example of what careful scientific management will do on a 160-acre hog farm in Illinois.

With only one part-time helper, the farmer raised 561 hogs and sold 78,700 pounds of live pork in a year. His net income was $3,873. The exhibit shows how he systematically rotated his feed crops and how he planned the best time of year to get his stock so as to bring in the highest net return.

Ideals in hog raising have changed in the past few years. A hog overloaded with fat is no longer regarded as most profitable since an abundance of cotton seed oil has reduced the demand for lard. The grower's aim is to produce an animal that will yield the largest amount of ham, bacon and cured pork, and, as in the case of the cow, this aim is attained by attention to breeding, feeding and management.

The same line of development is shown in other branches of the live stock industry. Lambs graded as choice brought 13.2 cents a pound in Chicago during October, but lambs grading common averaged only 10.1 cents. Differences in weight are even more striking. A flock of choice lambs averaged 82 pounds apiece when put on the market, but a flock of scrub lambs averaged only 36 pounds.

So far as the horse is concerned, it is interesting to find that owners of pure breeds report them to be more intelligent and more easily handled than an average nag.

The live stock show is a maze of attractions, but they all point to the same great lesson, which is that success consists in making every link of the chain strong. Fine stock of scientific feeding alone will not insure profits if the health of the animals is not guarded, or if they are prepared for market at an unfavorable time.

WORLD DOMINION BEING TRANSFERRED

millions now living will never die.....

The rapid changes of government among the nations seems only to check temporarily their steady approach to utter collapse.

Thrones are toppled over to make way for military dictators. Officials of republics serve only the selfish interests of big business; and instead of an improvement of affairs, each new move leaves the nations weaker. Suffering is increased; lawlessness becomes rampant, and hopelessness is followed by despair.

This march of the nations toward destruction and anarchy moves onward relentlessly. Armageddon, which nations seek to avert by their union, leagues, associations, and federations, looms up threateningly.

Yet man need not entirely despair. This troublous period of earth's history was foretold as immediately preceding the new order—a righteous world-wide government.

40,000 Destitute Children! You Can Help Them!

There will be a World-wide observance next Sunday of the Golden Rule—"Do unto others as you would they should do unto you."

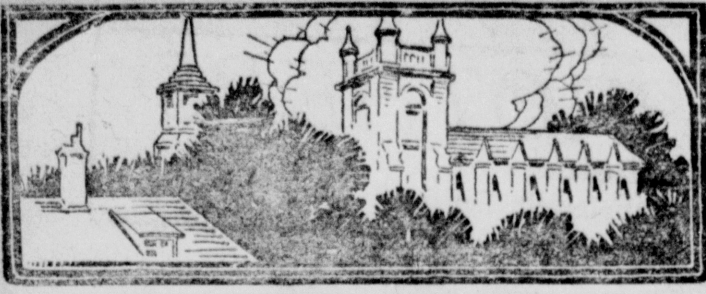

President Coolidge enjoyed a Golden Rule dinner the other day of thick soup, bread, stewed fruit and cocoa, and enjoyed it.

Eat a Golden Rule dinner yourself next Sunday at a cost of about five cents and contribute the difference between that and the cost of your usual Sunday dinner to help Near East Relief orphans to help themselves.

It costs $100 a year to feed, clothe and train these innocent little victims of war and race hatred.

Send contributions to Cleveland H. Dodge, Treasurer, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or leave it with us any day next week to go forward with our own contribution.

WORLD DOMINION BEING TRANSFERRED

millions now living will never die.....

The rapid changes of government among the nations seems only to check temporarily their steady approach to utter collapse.

Thrones are toppled over to make way for military dictators. Officials of republics serve only the selfish interests of big business; and instead of an improvement of affairs, each new move leaves the nations weaker. Suffering is increased; lawlessness becomes rampant, and hopelessness is followed by despair.

This march of the nations toward destruction and anarchy moves onward relentlessly. Armageddon, which nations seek to avert by their union, leagues, associations, and federations, looms up threateningly.

Yet man need not entirely despair. This troublous period of earth's history was foretold as immediately preceding the new order—a righteous world-wide government.

40,000 Destitute Children! You Can Help Them!

There will be a World-wide observance next Sunday of the Golden Rule—"Do unto others as you would they should do unto you."

President Coolidge enjoyed a Golden Rule dinner the other day of thick soup, bread, stewed fruit and cocoa, and enjoyed it.

Eat a Golden Rule dinner yourself next Sunday at a cost of about five cents and contribute the difference between that and the cost of your usual Sunday dinner to help Near East Relief orphans to help themselves.

It costs $100 a year to feed, clothe and train these innocent little victims of war and race hatred.

Send contributions to Cleveland H. Dodge, Treasurer, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or leave it with us any day next week to go forward with our own contribution.

Large Red Pimples On Face And Body Cuticura Healed

"My face and almost my entire body broke out with pimples. They were large and red and after festering, scabbed over. They itched and burned and my clothing aggravated the breaking out on my body. It was almost impossible to sleep at night due to the intense irritation. I tried several remedies but to no avail. A friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I purchased some. After a week's treatment my skin showed signs of clearing, and the itching and burning were relieved. I continued the treatment and in about a month I was healed, after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss Alice C. Kelson, 18406 Neff Rd., Cleveland, Ohio.

SCHOOL DISTRICT FUND REDUCED

Unity School district No. 1 will be sorely pressed for funds during the current fiscal year.

At the recent November election the voters of that district failed to approve a three mill levy for one year.

The tax valuation of the district, at that time was $199,930. Under the new reapportionment the tax valuation of the district has been decreased to $178,910.

Less money is now available for the school district than ever, and now it is contended that money will have to be borrowed to keep the schools of the district in operation, otherwise they will have to close.

ROAD BIDS WILL BE OPENED FRIDAY

Bids for the improvement of the Westville-Harrisburg road in West township will be opened by the state highway department next Friday. The road under the specifications bidders will receive will be graded and surfaced with waterbound macadam.

West township is financing the cost of the work, as is Smith township in Mahoning county. Within a few years, the road will receive a brick surface, and the cost of the latter will be paid for by the county and state. The state highway department has so far placed $5,000 in this job.

CASE DISMISSED BY JUDGE SMITH

After waiting for several hours for counsel to appear, and with the jury practically holding a social session, Judge Carl H. Smith of Steubenville dismissed the case of D. R. Williams against Frank C. Simms for failure to prosecute. The case is one that was carried up on appeal from a court of the justice of the peace.

R. N. Patchin and B. E. Kenkins represented the plaintiff, the record shows, while the defense was in the hands of Wilson, Hahn, Henderson & Wilson.

Action Dismissed.
In the case of the Shewen Williams Co., a corporation against the Liverpool Paint and Wallpaper Co., where in judgment for $10,446.75 was sought by the plaintiff, the action has been dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff, and on their own motion.

Light heralded the first Christmas. It was the brilliance of a star that guided the Wise Men to the Manger in Bethlehem.

And through the ages LIGHT—the shimmer of the Christmas tree, the welcome of the glowing window, the radiance of the bright hearth—has been inseparably bound up with the Yuletide spirit.

What, then, could be more fitting as a Christmas gift than LIGHT?

You can give LIGHT in the form of—

An attractive reading lamp.
A dainty, well shaded boudoir lamp.
A desk lamp.

A work light to soothe nerves and fight fatigue in the kitchen or laundry.

Or you can replace all the lighting fixtures of one or more rooms in your home with new ones that fit modern vision—saving specifications.

Any of the electrical dealers will willingly make more suggestions for you.

Remember that you can banish all your Christmas worries at one stroke if you—

Large Red Pimples On Face And Body Cuticura Healed

"My face and almost my entire body broke out with pimples. They were large and red and after festering, scaled over. They itched and burned and my clothing aggravated the breaking out on my body. It was almost impossible to sleep at night due to the intense irritation. I tried several remedies but to no avail. A friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I purchased some. After a week's treatment my skin showed signs of clearing, and the itching and burning were relieved. I continued the treatment and in about a month I was healed, after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss Alice C. Kalosi, 18405 N. Rd., Cleveland, Ohio.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are excellent.

SCHOOL DISTRICT FUND REDUCED

Unity School district No. 1 will be sorely pressed for funds during the current fiscal year.

At the recent November election the voters of that district failed to approve a three mill levy for one year.

The tax valuation of the district, at that time was $199,330.

Under the new reappraisal the tax valuation of the district has been decreased to $178,910.

Less money is now available for the school district than ever, and now it is contended that money will have to be borrowed to keep the schools of the district in operation, otherwise they will have to close.

ROAD BIDS WILL BE OPENED FRIDAY

Bids for the improvement of the Westville-Harrisburg road in West township will be opened by the state highway department next Friday. The road under the specifications bidders will receive will be graded and surfaced with waterbound macadam.

West township is financing the cost of the work, as is Smith township in Mahoning county. Within a few years, the road will receive a brick surface, and the cost of the latter will be paid for by the county and state. The state highway department has so far placed $5,000 in this job.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

By Elizabeth Dejeans

The judge's eyes began to twinkle. "I'll bet there's one point on which we do agree, and that is that there is a woman somewhere in the background."

"No—I don't believe there is. If the prosecution had unearthed even a hint of another woman, I should simply have thrown up my hands, granted that he did murder his wife, for that would be both a masculine and a feminine explanation, because it's so plainly human. No—I don't believe there is—I stick to my conception of John Dascome. . . . What I'm wondering is, what is he going to do now he has ten millions? He's young—only thirty-six."

"I've been wondering, too, Sadie."

VII

John Dascome was far from New York before New York knew that he had departed. Then several facts leaked; that he had given up his practice, that he had stored all his belongings and had sold his two houses, that he had sent his child to Europe in the care of Mrs. Doane, and the big fact that Mrs. Ormsby was not going to contest Amos Proctor's will. Dascome had transferred his ten million dollars to Pacific coast banks and investment concerns. He had shaken the dust of New York from his feet.

It was rumored that, after the trial, Dascome had had an interview with Mrs. Ormsby, from which she had emerged a nervous wreck. Then, that little Clarice had first denounced her aunt, then had gone to Mrs. Doane, and that it was at Mrs. Doane's apartment that Dascome had found his daughter. The Ormsby servants whispered that Clarice literally hated her aunt and that the months the child had spent in the Ormsby house had been stormy ones. They said that Clarice procured and had read every article on the two trials, and that when she read the testimony of Mrs. Ormsby had tried not to give in the last trial, about having hurt her sister Elaine when she was a little girl, Clarice had said things to her aunt that were too terrible to repeat, and Mrs. Ormsby had fainted. Then Clarice had announced that she would not stay an instant longer in Mrs. Ormsby's house.

The servants said that they were sorry for the child; that when Clarice rushed from the house and they tried to prevent her, she said, "I haven't anybody, what difference does it make what I do or what becomes of me?"

One of the servants said to her, "I'm sure your father loves you. Wait, Miss Clarice, I know he'll come and get you."

Clarice had answered, "I don't know about him. I guess I'll go to Mrs. Doane—she's not a bad woman."

As time passed, "Dascome" became an almost forgotten name in New York; besides, New York was absorbed by the war. Mrs. Ormsby recovered from a long illness and took up her social duties and appeared much like her old self, only older and colder, a frozen sort of woman. Occasionally word from Paris; Mrs. Doane and Clarice were there, cut off from America by the war.

From odd sources had come bits of information about John Dascome; several months after he left New York, some tourists in San Francisco had seen Dascome in the Barbary Coast, filling the glass of a frowzled fille de joie, a three days' growth of beard on his face and his clothing unkempt. "John Dascome has gone to the dogs," was their report. "He looked through us, but we knew him, his eyes haven't changed."

In the following summer someone saw John Dascome in Alaska. He was outfitting himself with dogs and sledges and with him was a brawny man whose description fitted Herbert Colt. They had gone north over one of the trails.

Next year an engineer named Benson, who was going home because of the dangerous conditions in Russia, saw and talked with John Dascome in Petrograd. The human tide was ebbing from Petrograd, but Dascome had remained. All Benson could get from him was that he was in Petrograd on business and would "stick it out." He wore a beard and ill-fitting Russian clothes and spoke Russian and looked Russian. He had accosted Benson, else Benson would never have recognized him. They had dined together and had watched a serpentine dancer trying to persuade soldiers with empty pockets that Petrograd was gay. Benson said that Dascome had called the girl "La belle Karesia," and that he gave her a handful of roubles. Then, on parting, he had asked Benson to take a letter and mail it in Japan. To Benson's surprise, the letter was addressed to Nadine Navarre, in Tokio. Benson had taken the letter and had mailed it; when he reached New York, he told of it. "A strange man," he said. "What is he, a Red? Or is he in our secret service?"

Then, in the days when Russia was still afire and America was counting her dead, and Texas began to ooze oil in unexpected places, New York heard what Los Angeles had known for some time, that, in some previous wandering, John Dascome had planted gold pieces that were now yielding him a thousand-fold; that John Dascome, already a multi-millionaire by reason of Amos Proctor's will, was making a fortune of his own in the Texas oilfields. Where he had been since he had first invested in Texas land no one could say with certainty; he seemed to have been wandering through the Orient, then through the United States, studying after-the-war conditions.

This much was known: That John Dascome had not wasted his money, and that Texas was going to yield him a large harvest. When the land-grabbers in Texas had collided with Dascome's holdings, he had notice of it, and he had appeared in Los Angeles, the same well-groomed, steady-eyed man whom New York had known several years before. Then Texas became well acquainted with John Dascome; he sold his holdings only when the price suited him.

"You're a lucky man, Dascome," someone said to him.

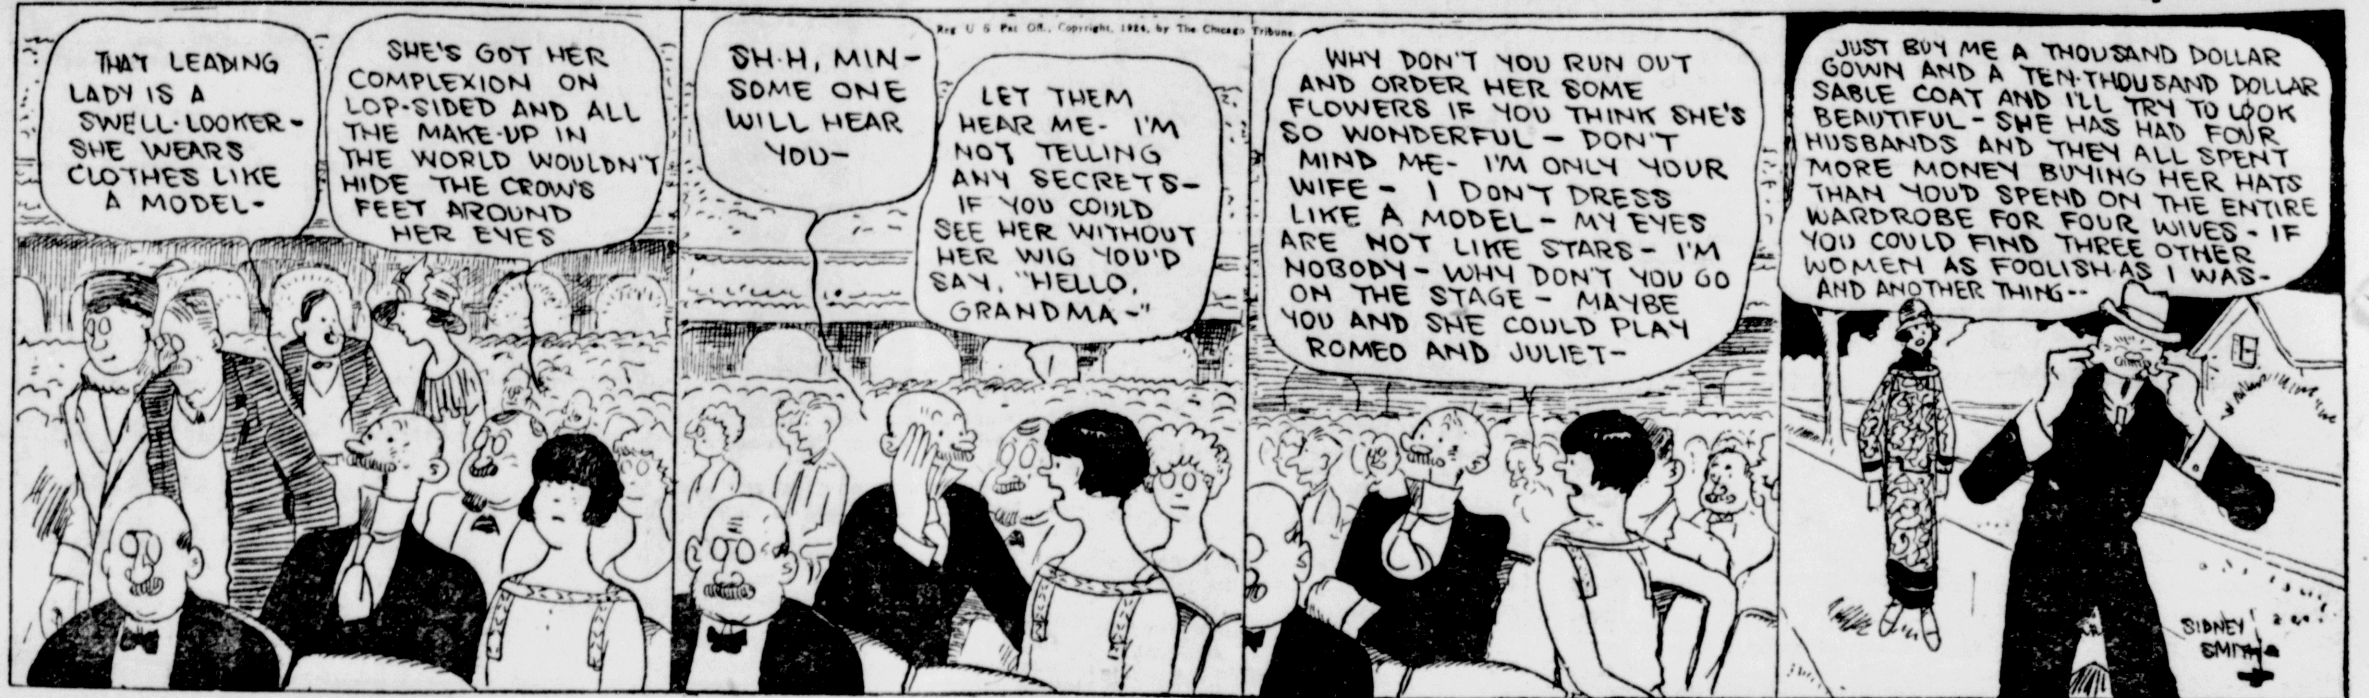

"That depends on one's point of view," Dascome answered.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON POINTS

Live Questions for Discussion on the Sunday School Lesson.—The Man Born Blind (John 9:1-17, 26-38 for Sunday, December 7).

1. What other miracles recorded in the gospels have to do with the healing of the blind? What made the giving of sight to this blind man peculiarly difficult?
2. What were the rewards, in this case, of standing up for Jesus?
3. What present day contention is repudiated by Christ in connection with this healing?
4. How are both physical and spiritual blindness illustrated in this lesson?
5. What does confession mean besides joining the church? Can a person be a Christian without confessing Christ? How?

CLEARICUS SAYS: When Jesus opens our eyes, we behold wondrous things out of his law, a new spiritual world flashes upon us, the splendor of divine life and love dawns within us, the path of duty becomes a path of beauty, and, following him, we shall not walk in darkness but shall have the light of life.

Lesson Prayer.
Dear Lord, thou dost perceive with thy clear vision that our eyes are touched with blindness. Some of us see thee oh so divinely because we are blinded through selfishness or some other kind of sin. Thou dost know what we need to clear our vision. Lift the veil, we pray and let in the light through the darkened windows of our souls. In Jesus' name we ask. Amen.

(Send problems in question form to church editor; answer will appear in later issue.)

1. What system of raising the money for financing week-day schools of religion have proven most successful?

Answer—Week-day schools conducted independently by separate churches will of course be borne by the respective churches, including same in the church budget or raising the necessary amount by special subscription. Groups of churches may be financed (1) by raising the amount of the budget by special subscription from individuals, groups and churches through their respective official boards, (2) Many communities find amount apportioned to the various co-operating churches satisfactory, this apportionment made on the basis of proportional attendance of the pupils or the membership strength of the respective churches, (3) A third and less desirable method is to charge tuition to cover expenses. Every child should feel that the week-day school of religion is as free for him as is the public school. This question is fully treated in The Week Day Church School, by Cope, chapter 12.

2. Should a Sunday school organization be considered organist for all school affairs or only for the school proper?

Answer—If the school is not departmentalized, one musician may be elected to act as organist or pianist for the regular Sunday sessions. An assistant should be elected also. Co-operation between these two should make it unnecessary ever to lack a pianist for the opening voluntary of the school session.

HOME TRAINING

"A Thanksgiving Life."
"What can I do out here among the hills," said Mary Stone to her pastor who made a call for volunteers for service.

"Mary, I'm so glad you have asked the question for it shows a willingness on your part for service that will be a source of happiness for many years."

"Over there lives Mrs. White, a lonely widow. Her house is set back off the road and she seldom has a visitor. Suppose you go to see her once a week. Take some good books or periodicals which she might enjoy and read to her. Tell her of the good things that are happening."

Mary undertook the suggested task which soon became a part of her weekly program.

Twenty years later the pastor met Mary who told of her girlhood experience and said with a radiant face: "I have kept up to that program all my life. I have found some aged and lonely person to cheer and when death came I found another and then another. This service has given me the greatest happiness of my life."

Rickenbacker

A CAR WORTHY OF ITS NAME

And Now—Our Hat is in the Ring

We are pleased to announce that out of a number of applicants we have been chosen to represent the Famous Rickenbacker "Six"—and "Vertical-8-Superfine" the cars that carry the well known insignia—"The Hat in the Ring."

This is a gratifying victory for our organization. For a long time we have had our eyes on the Rickenbacker franchise. We wanted to represent this product. We knew its value. That's because we knew the car.

After a more searching investigation than a prospective owner could afford to make—we have selected the Rickenbacker "Six" and "Vertical-8-Superfine":
—Because they are the only cars embodying all the principal outstanding advances in modern motor car engineering.

—Because they are the only cars the motors of which have no period of vibration—which is directly due to the Rickenbacker tandem flywheel.

—Because in the air cleaner, a particular Rickenbacker invention which eliminates carbon from the motor, we found another great advancement not embodied in any other car.

—Because the double depth frame, built with the strength of Brooklyn Bridge, gives easier riding qualities than found in any other cars of their class. And in addition innumerable other features which would take up more space than we could possibly use to tell you the story.

But, last and not least—4 wheel brakes.

4 wheel brakes are without question one of the greatest improvements made in motor cars since the advent of the self-starter. And we all know that was quite some improvement.

With all of their marvelous mechanical improvements the designers of the Rickenbacker did not overlook appearance and comfort.

They are charming in appearance, light in weight, perfect in balance, comfortable to ride in and tremendously economical in performance.

As a matter of fact, we just believe that in every way they are designed in advance of the crowd. These are a few reasons why we selected Rickenbacker.

We merely urge you to do one thing. Permit us to put you at the wheel of a Rickenbacker. Permit us to offer you the courtesy of one of these cars for thirty minutes. And we will assure you, if in this time you do not say it is the greatest, sweetest performing automobile you ever drove, we will not make any further effort to sell you the Famous Rickenbacker "Six" or the "Vertical-8-Superfine."

But frankly, we do believe that every fair minded person can sell himself in less than thirty minutes by operating one of these cars himself.

We want to say just one word about service. Based on our experience we know its value. Therefore, you can depend on the fact that Rickenbacker Service is going to be built on courtesy, promptness and a square deal to everyone.

Won't you permit us to show you the latest Rickenbacker models?

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON POINTS

Live Questions for Discussion on the Sunday School Lesson.—The Man Born Blind (John 9:13-17, 26-38 for Sunday, December 7.)
1. What other miracles recorded in the gospels have to do with the healing of the blind? What made the giving of sight to this blind man peculiarly difficult?
2. What were the rewards, in this case, of standing up for Jesus?
3. What present day contention is repudiated by Christ in connection with this healing?
4. How are both physical and spiritual blindness illustrated in this lesson?
5. What does confession mean besides joining the church? Can a person be a Christian without confessing Christ? How?
CLEARICUS SAYS: When Jesus opens our eyes, we behold wondrous things out of his law, a new spiritual world flashes upon us, the splendor of divine life and love dawns within us, the path of duty becomes a path of beauty, and, following him, we shall not walk in darkness but shall have the light of life.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

By Elizabeth Dejeans

The judge's eyes began to twinkle. "I'll bet there's one point on which we do agree, and that is that there is a woman somewhere in the background."

"No—I don't believe there is. If the prosecution had unearthed even a hint of another woman, I should simply have thrown up my hands, granted that he did murder his wife, for that would be both a masculine and a feminine explanation, because it's so plainly human. No—I don't believe there is—I stick to my conception of John Dascome. . . . What I'm wondering is, what is he going to do now he has ten millions? He's young—only thirty-six."

VII

John Dascome was far from New York before New York knew that he had departed. Then several facts leaked; that he had given up his practice, that he had stored all his belongings and had sold his two houses, that he had sent his child to Europe in the care of Mrs. Doane, and the big fact that Mrs. Ormsby was not going to contest Amos Proctor's will. Dascome had transferred his ten million dollars to Pacific coast banks and investment concerns. He had shaken the dust of New York from his feet.

It was rumored that, after the trial, Dascome had had an interview with Mrs. Ormsby, from which she had emerged a nervous wreck. Then, that little Clarice had first denounced her aunt, then had gone to Mrs. Doane, and that it was at Mrs. Doane's apartment that Dascome had found his daughter. The Ormsby servants whispered that Clarice literally hated her aunt and that the months the child had spent in the Ormsby house had been stormy ones. They said that Clarice procured and had read every article on the two trials, and that when she read the testimony of Mrs. Ormsby had tried not to give in the last trial, about having hurt her sister Elaine when she was a little girl, Clarice had said things to her aunt that were too terrible to repeat, and Mrs. Ormsby had fainted. Then Clarice had announced that she would not stay an instant longer in Mrs. Ormsby's house.

The servants said that they were sorry for the child; that when Clarice rushed from the house and they tried to prevent her, she said, "I haven't anybody, what difference does it make what I do or what becomes of me?"

One of the servants said to her, "I'm sure your father loves you. Wait, Miss Clarice, I know he'll come and get you."

Clarice had answered, "I don't know about him. I guess I'll go to Mrs. Doane—she's not a bad woman."

As time passed, "Dascome" became an almost forgotten name in New York; besides, New York was absorbed by the war. Mrs. Ormsby recovered from a long illness and took up her social duties and appeared much like her old self, only older and colder, a frozen sort of woman. Occasionally word from Paris; Mrs. Doane and Clarice were there, cut off from America by the war.

From odd sources had come bits of information about John Dascome; several months after he left New York, some tourists in San Francisco had seen Dascome in the Barbary Coast, filling the glass of a frowzy fille de joie, a three days' growth of beard on his face and his clothing unkempt. "John Dascome has gone to the dogs," was their report. "He looked through us, but we knew him, his eyes haven't changed."

In the following summer someone saw John Dascome in Alaska. He was outfitting himself with dogs and sledges and with him was a brawny man whose description fitted Herbert Colt. They had gone north over one of the trails.

Next year an engineer named Benson, who was going home because of the dangerous conditions in Russia, saw and talked with John Dascome in Petrograd. The human tide was ebbing from Petrograd, but Dascome had remained. All Benson could get from him was that he was in Petrograd on business and would "stick it out." He wore a beard and ill-fitting Russian clothes and spoke Russian and looked Russian. He had accosted Benson, else Benson would never have recognized him. They had dined together and had watched a serpentine dancer trying to persuade soldiers with empty pockets that Petrograd was gay. Benson said that Dascome had called the girl "La belle Karesia," and that he gave her a handful of roubles. Then, on parting, he had asked Benson to take a letter and mail it in Japan. To Benson's surprise, the letter was addressed to Nadine Navarre, in Tokio. Benson had taken the letter and had mailed it; when he reached New York, he told of it. "A strange man," he said. "What is he, a Red? Or is he in our secret service?"

Then, in the days when Russia was still afire and America was counting her dead, and Texas began to ooze oil in unexpected places, New York heard what Los Angeles had known for some time, that, in some previous wandering, John Dascome had planted gold pieces that were now yielding him a thousand-fold; that John Dascome, already a multi-millionaire by reason of Amos Proctor's will, was making a fortune of his own in the Texas oilfields. Where he had been since he had first invested in Texas land no one could say with certainty; he seemed to have been wandering through the Orient, then through the United States, studying after-the-war conditions.

This much was known: That John Dascome had not wasted his money, and that Texas was going to yield him a large harvest. When the land-grabbers in Texas had collided with Dascome's holdings, he had notice of it, and he had appeared in Los Angeles, the same well-groomed, steady-eyed man whom New York had known several years before. Then Texas became well acquainted with John Dascome; he sold his holdings only when the price suited him.

"You're a lucky man, Dascome," someone said to him.

"That depends on one's point of view," Dascome answered.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON POINTS

Live Questions for Discussion on the Sunday School Lesson.—The Man Born Blind (John 9:13-17, 26-38 for Sunday, December 7).

1. What other miracles recorded in the gospels have to do with the healing of the blind? What made the giving of sight to this blind man peculiarly difficult?

2. What were the rewards, in this case, of standing up for Jesus?

3. What present day contention is repudiated by Christ in connection with this healing?

4. How are both physical and spiritual blindness illustrated in this lesson?

5. What does confession mean besides joining the church? Can a person be a Christian without confessing Christ? How?

CLEARICUS SAYS: When Jesus opens our eyes, we behold wondrous things out of his law, a new spiritual world flashes upon us, the splendor of divine life and love dawns within us, the path of duty becomes a path of beauty, and, following him, we shall not walk in darkness but shall have the light of life.

Lesson Prayer.

Dear Lord, thou dost perceive with thy clear vision that our eyes are touched with blindness. Some of us see thee oh so divinely because we are blinded through selfishness or some other kind of sin. Thou dost know what we need to clear our vision. Lift the veil, we pray and let in the light through the darkened windows of our souls. In Jesus' name we ask. Amen.

(Send problems in question form to church editor; answer will appear in later issue.)

1. What system of raising the money for financing week-day schools of religion have proven most successful?

Answer—Week-day schools conducted independently by separate churches will of course be borne by the respective churches, including same in the church budget or raising the necessary amount by special subscription. Groups of churches may be financed (1) by raising the amount of the budget by special subscription from individuals, groups and churches through their respective official boards, (2) Many communities find amount apportioned to the various co-operating churches satisfactory, this apportionment made on the basis of proportional attendance of the pupils or the membership strength of the respective churches, (3) A third and less desirable method is to charge tuition to cover expenses. Every child should feel that the week-day school of religion is as free for him as is the public school. This question is fully treated in The Week Day Church School, by Cope, chapter 12.

2. Should a Sunday school organization be considered organist for all school affairs or only for the school proper?

Answer—If the school is not departmentalized, one musician may be elected to act as organist or pianist for the regular Sunday sessions. An assistant should be elected also. Co-operation between these two should make it unnecessary ever to lack a pianist for the opening voluntary of the school session.

"A Thanksgiving Life."

"What can I do out here among the hills," said Mary Stone to her pastor who made a call for volunteers for service.

"Mary, I'm so glad you have asked the question for it shows a willingness on your part for service that will be a source of happiness for many years."

"Over there lives Mrs. White, a lonely widow. Her house is set back off the road and she seldom has a visitor. Suppose you go to see her once a week. Take some good books or periodicals which she might enjoy and read to her. Tell her of the good things that are happening."

Mary undertook the suggested task which soon became a part of her weekly program.

Twenty years later the pastor met Mary who told of her girlhood experience and said with a radiant face: "I have kept up to that program all my life. I have found some aged and lonely person to cheer and when death came I found another and then another. This service has given me the greatest happiness of my life."

A CAR WORTHY OF ITS NAME

And Now—Our Hat is in the Ring

We are pleased to announce that out of a number of applicants we have been chosen to represent the Famous Rickenbacker "Six"—and "Vertical-8-Superfine" the cars that carry the well known insignia—"The Hat in the Ring."

This is a gratifying victory for our organization. For a long time we have had our eyes on the Rickenbacker franchise. We wanted to represent this product. We knew its value. That's because we knew the car.

After a more searching investigation than a prospective owner could afford to make—we have selected the Rickenbacker "Six" and "Vertical-8-Superfine":

—Because they are the only cars embodying all the principal outstanding advances in modern motor car engineering.

—Because they are the only cars the motors of which have no period of vibration—which is directly due to the Rickenbacker tandem flywheel.

—Because in the air cleaner, a particular Rickenbacker invention which eliminates carbon from the motor, we found another great advancement not embodied in any other car.

—Because the double depth frame, built with the strength of Brooklyn Bridge, gives easier riding qualities than found in any other cars of their class.

And in addition innumerable other features which would take up more space than we could possibly use to tell you the story.

But, last and not least—4 wheel brakes.

4 wheel brakes are without question one of the greatest improvements made in motor cars since the advent of the self-starter. And we all know that was quite some improvement.

With all of their marvelous mechanical improvements the designers of the Rickenbacker did not overlook appearance and comfort.

They are charming in appearance, light in weight, perfect in balance, comfortable to ride in and tremendously economical in performance.

As a matter of fact, we just believe that in every way they are designed in advance of the crowd. These are a few reasons why we selected Rickenbacker.

We merely urge you to do one thing. Permit us to put you at the wheel of a Rickenbacker. Permit us to offer you the courtesy of one of these cars for thirty minutes. And we will assure you, if in this time you do not say it is the greatest, sweetest performing automobile you ever drove, we will not make any further effort to sell you the Famous Rickenbacker "Six" or the "Vertical-8-Superfine."

But frankly, we do believe that every fair minded person can sell himself in less than thirty minutes by operating one of these cars himself.

We want to say just one word about service. Based on our experience we know its value. Therefore, you can depend on the fact that Rickenbacker Service is going to be built on courtesy, promptness and a square deal to everyone.

Won't you permit us to show you the latest Rickenbacker models?

Cubs Said to Be Far From Willing to Part With O'Farrell

But Lack of Hitting Fielders May Cause Killifer to Weaken

Would Like to Fall Heir to George Kelly, and so Would Jack Hendricks; Reds Reported to be Willing to Part With First Class Pitcher in Order to Fill Shoes of Late Jake Daubert.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The dawn of a new day this morning found Bill Killifer and Jack Hendricks still running a deadheat in their two-men race after some of the Giants' spare talent. Killifer, it is understood, has just about decided to accept the Giants' proposition whereby Irish Meusel will take up his residence in Chicago next summer. The Cubs are said to be willing to part with catcher O'Farrell in order to complete the deal, but this is not exactly the truth.

In fact, the deal is being held up by the Cubs' disinclination to part with O'Farrell. The indications were however, that Killifer would weaken. He must get a hitting outfielder if his team is to be a serious contender for the pennant next season.

He would like to fall heir to George Kelly. So would Jack Hendricks, of the Cincinnati Reds, and according to the views of some of the sharpshooters he may be accommodated. Our Mr. McGraw is said to have soured on Kelly for some reason last season, but if he sends the tall young man away, he will get plenty in return.

LAUGHLIN 6, POTTERS WIN

Defeat Hall China and Laughlin No. 5 Cagers.

Laughlin No. 6 and the Potters were the winners of industrial league contests at the "Y" last night.

Laughlin No. 6 had an easy win over Hall China, winning 37 to 27, while the Potters ran away from Laughlin No. 5 by the score of 33 to 15.

In the Laughlin No. 6-Hall China game the former team stepped out in the first half with a lead of 35 to 14. In the second half Hall China played better basketball and outscored their opponents, but not enough to cut the lead down that Laughlin No. 6 gained in the first half.

Jimmy Webb for Laughlin No. 6 was about the whole thing, in the scoring line, making 23 of his team points. The rest of the team played good basketball.

Mackey, Dyer and Greene were the mainstays for Hall China.

Potters, in their game with Laughlin No. 5, clinched the game in the first half, leading 24 to 5 at the end of the period.

In the second half, although Laughlin No. 5 put up a better game, the Potters increased their lead and were 23 points to the good when time was called to end the game.

Wain for the Potters had his shooting eye last night, getting ten two-pointers, while Jimmy Hamilton followed with five. Guyton found the baskets for three, while the rest of the Potters' scoring were fouls by Guyton and Wallace.

Berg, Sayre and Carey performed the best for Laughlin No. 5. Lineups and summaries:

Steubenville-Toronto Gridders Gather Forces For Concluding Clash of Series

In what is carded as the greatest football attraction of the current season in Eastern Ohio, the Toronto Tigers and the Steubenville Ex-Collegians will battle tomorrow afternoon at Northend Field, Steubenville, with the Ohio Valley professional championship at stake.

The game will start at 2 o'clock, instead of 2:30, as customary, officials of the clubs announced today.

The starting time was advanced half an hour in order that there will be sufficient time to play a few extra quarters, if this is found necessary. The determining factor will be the respective scores of the teams at the conclusion of the four 15-minute periods which shall constitute the regular playing time. If the eleven are deadlocked then, another 10-minute quarter will be added, and this will be repeated as many more times as necessary, or until one of the rivals obtains the winning score.

Both teams will start their regular lineups. This, in the case of the Steubenville club, means Nick Nardacci and Gus Ekberg, West Virginia University stars, who closed their collegiate seasons Thanksgiving, Doug Bowers and Jack Simmons, ex-West Virginia backfield luminaries, and "Hoot" Flannigan, former Pitt half-back, as backfield performers; and Phil Hill of West Virginia, who closed his college football career last week; Stanley Keck, Princeton all-American; Elmer Carroll and Brown, W. J.; Conley of Valparaiso; Pierre Hill, Pat Quarels, Steve Herick, Lou Fucey, Joe Setron, ex-West Virginians, and Bill Edgar, of Pitt, as linemen.

Butler, Stahlman and Barry are the only notable additions to the Toronto aggregation. Sol Butler, the Negro sprint star, formerly of the Chicago Bears, and lately signed with the Akron Pros, United States runner at the Olympic games last year, will handle a halfback job.

"Slippery" Seeds, the Salem sandlot star, will take the other half. Jerry Hogan, of the Akron Pros, will be at quarter, as usual, and Comer, of Toronto, at fullback, with Roney and several others in reserve.

Myers, of Pitt, will handle left end, and Al Neuser will take the right flank; Stahlman and Barry, of the Akron Pros, will be at tackles; Rhodes and Kyle at guards and Mac-Roberts at center.

James Duffee, of Williams college, will referee; Rodney Ross, of Ohio State, now coaching at South high, Columbus, will be umpire, and Michael Boland, also of Ohio State and coaching at Aquinas high, Columbus, will be head linesman. These three men were recommended by Joe Carr, president of the National Professional league.

Northend Field, at Steubenville, will be covered with straw and sprinkled with gasoline, which later will be burned in an effort to have as dry a field as possible.

However, weather conditions, whatever they may be, will have no effect on the playing of the game.

The traction company will operate at least one special car from the Broadway terminal, leaving not later than 12 o'clock.

LOCAL AND STEUBENVILLE CAGE SQUADS WILL RESUME CONTESTS

STEUBENVILLE, Dec. 6.—East Liverpool high school has been added to the Steubenville high basketball card after being off the schedule for two years. It is understood that East Liverpool will appear also on the Steubenville grid card next fall. The Crimson and Black floor card also includes games with Bellaire, Martin's Ferry, Wellsville, New Philadelphia and other old time rivals.

Stars Line Up For Football Battle Today

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6.—One of the greatest arrays of football stars ever brought together for a game is on the card for the Grid-Grad stadium fund contest between East and West here today.

From the east, where the dope has been spilled time and again this year, come Nardacci and Ekberg, West Virginia luminaries, who tore up things in general for their alma mater Turkey day when they met Washington and Jefferson. Chickensky, one of the best in the east this season, will be seen at half, a position he has filled so spectacularly at Lafayette this season. Others from the east include Koppisch of Columbia, prevoist of Penn State; Rae Crowther of Colgate and Waldorf of Syracuse.

From the west will come a dozen Big Ten stars, two Notre Dame flashes and several from the Ohio conference. Steger, Rockwell, Marion and Slaughter of Michigan; Kutler and Young of Ohio State; Hancock and Devine of Iowa and John Thomas of Chicago are among those in the limelight.

A record crowd is expected to attend the contest. Because 75 per cent of the players on the two teams are this season's players, all in the "pink" of condition, the game will undoubtedly be an unusual affair.

The two square are as follows:

Eastern Team.

ENDS—Rae Crowther, Colgate; Archie Witt, Muhlenberg; Hines, Colgate; McKee, Syracuse; Graham, West Virginia; Watkins, Dartmouth; Hogsett, Dartmouth; Kriz, George Washington.

TACKLES—Welderquist, W. & J.; Sharr, Tufts; Prevost, Penn State; Clements, W. & J.; R. Clark, Muhlenberg.

Cubs Said to Be Far From Willing to Part With O'Farrell

But Lack of Hitting Fielders May Cause Killifer to Weaken

Would Like to Fall Heir to George Kelly, and so Would Jack Hendricks; Reds Reported to be Willing to Part With First Class Pitcher in Order to Fill Shoes of Late Jake Daubert.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The dawn of a new day this morning found Bill Killifer and Jack Hendricks still running a deadheat in their two-man race after some of the Giants' spare talent. Killifer, it is understood, has just about decided to accept the Giants' proposition whereby Irish Meusel will take up his residence in Chicago next summer. The Cubs are said to be willing to part with catcher O'Farrell in order to complete the deal, but this is not exactly the truth.

In fact, the deal is being held up by the Cubs' disinclination to part with O'Farrell. The indications were however, that Killifer would weaken. He must get a hitting outfielder if his team is to be a serious contender for the pennant next season.

He would like to fall heir to George Kelly. So would Jack Hendricks, of the Cincinnati Reds, and according to the views of some of the sharpshooters he may be accommodated. Our Mr. McGraw is said to have soured on Kelly for some reason last season, but if he sends the tall young man away, he will get plenty in return.

Kelly was the most valuable man on the New York ball club last season.

Just what the Reds might have to give in return for Kelly is not known but a hot tip is that they are ready to part company with a first class pitcher in their eagerness to complete the deal. They must have a first baseman to replace the late Jake Daubert and although Rube Bressler has been mentioned as the successor in question, it is known that the Reds would like to do better if they could.

Bill Terry, the Giants' alternate first baseman, also is being sought by Hendricks and it is reported that he would go as high as $65,000 in money and players for the young man.

However, all talk of Eddie Roush figuring in any deal with the Giants is so much malarkey, according to Hendricks.

"A fine chance of anybody getting him" the Red Manager declared today. "Why, I might just as well talk about trading Garry Herrmann. We like Roush in Cincinnati and we plan to keep him there."

NESSER TO LEAD TIGERS IN 1925

Officials of the Toronto Tigers today announced that their most cherished football ambition, outside of the winning of the title from Steubenville, has been fulfilled.

Al Nesser, grand old man of football, who still manages to show the young men of the game a few things, will coach and lead the Tigers throughout the entire 1925 campaign. Nesser has "signed up" and will make his home in Toronto, it was learned.

He says: "I'm going to give Toronto a national championship team next year."

LAUGHLIN 6, POTTERS WIN

Defeat Hall China and Laughlin No. 5 Cagers.

Laughlin No. 6 and the Potters were the winners of industrial league contests at the "Y" last night. Laughlin No. 6 had an edge on Hall China, winning 37 to 27, while the Potters ran away from Laughlin No. 5 by the score of 35 to 15.

In the Laughlin No. 6-Hall China game the former team stepped out in the first half with a lead of 35 to 14. In the second half Hall China played better basketball and outscored their opponents, but not enough to cut the lead down that Laughlin No. 6 gained in the first half.

Jimmy Webb for Laughlin No. 6 was about the whole thing, in the scoring line, making 23 of his team points. The rest of the team played good basketball.

Mackey, Dyer and Greene were the mainstays for Hall China.

Potters, in their game with Laughlin No. 5, clinched the game in the first half, leading 24 to 5 at the end of the period.

In the second half, although Laughlin No. 5 put up a better game, the Potters increased their lead and were 23 points to the good when time was called to end the game.

Wain for the Potters had his shooting eye last night, getting ten two-pointers, while Jimmy Hamilton followed with five. Guyton found the baskets for three, while the rest of the Potters' scoring were fouls by Guyton and Wallace.

Berg, Sayre and Carey performed the best for Laughlin No. 5. Lineups and summaries:

Steubenville-Toronto Gridders Gather Forces For Concluding Clash of Series

In what is carded as the greatest football attraction of the current season in Eastern Ohio, the Toronto Tigers and the Steubenville Ex-Collegians will battle tomorrow afternoon at Northend Field, Steubenville, with the Ohio Valley professional championship at stake.

The game will start at 2 o'clock, instead of 2:30, as customary, officials of the clubs announced today.

The starting time was advanced half an hour in order that there will be sufficient time to play a few extra quarters, if this is found necessary. The determining factor will be the respective scores of the teams at the conclusion of the four 15-minute periods which shall constitute the regular playing time. If the eleven are deadlocked then, another 10-minute quarter will be added, and this will be repeated as many more times as necessary, or until one of the rivals obtains the winning score.

Both teams will start their regular lineups. This, in the case of the Steubenville club, means Nick Nardacel and Gus Ekberg, West Virginia University stars, who closed their collegiate seasons Thanksgiving, Doug Bowers and Jack Simons, ex-West Virginia backfield luminaries, and "Hoot" Flannigan, former Pitt half-back, as backfield performers; and Phil Hill of West Virginia, who closed his college football career last week; Stanley Keck, Princeton all-American; Elmer Carroll and Brown, W. J.; Conley of Valparaiso; Pierre Hill, Pat Quarels, Steve Herick, Lou Fucey, Joe Setron, ex-West Virginians, and Bill Edgar, of Pitt, as linemen.

Butler, Stahlman and Barry are the only notable additions to the Toronto aggregation. Sol Butler, the Negro sprint star, formerly of the Chicago Bears, and lately signed with the Akron Pros, United States runner at the Olympic games last year, will handle a halfback job.

"Slippery" Seeds, the Salem sandlot star, will take the other half. Jerry Hogan, of the Akron Pros, will be at quarter, as usual, and Comer, of Toronto, at fullback, with Roney and several others in reserve.

Myers, of Pitt, will handle left end, and Al Nesser will take the right flank; Stahlman and Barry, of the Akron Pros, will be at tackles; Rhodes and Kyle at guards and MacRoberts at center.

James Duffee, of Williams college, will referee; Rodney Ross, of Ohio State, now coaching at South High, Columbus, will be umpire, and Michael Boland, also of Ohio State, and coaching at Aquinas high, Columbus, will be head linesman. These three men were recommended by Joe Carr, president of the National Professional league.

Northend Field, at Steubenville, will be covered with straw and sprinkled with gasoline, which later will be burned in an effort to have as dry a field as possible.

However, weather conditions, whatever they may be, will have no effect on the playing of the game.

The traction company will operate at least one special car from the Broadway terminal, leaving not later than 12 o'clock.

THREE CONTESTS IN CAGE LEAGUE

Three engagements are scheduled tonight in the Sunday School basketball league. The Christians will tackle the Park Boulevards and the First Baptists will play the Chester Presbyterians in the two main attractions.

The preliminary will place the Christian and First Baptist Juniors in action.

Cleveland Beats St. Paul.
CLEVELAND, Dec. 6.—Cleveland defeated St. Paul at Hockey last night, the score being 2 to 1.

LOCAL AND STEUBENVILLE CAGE SQUADS WILL RESUME CONTESTS

STEUBENVILLE, Dec. 6.—East Liverpool high school has been added to the Steubenville high basketball card after being off the schedule for two years. It is understood that East Liverpool will appear also on the Steubenville grid card next fall. The Crimson and Black floor card also includes games with Bellaire, Martin's Ferry, Wellsville, New Philadelphia and other old time rivals.

Stars Line Up For Football Battle Today

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6.—One of the greatest arrays of football stars ever brought together for a game is on the card for the Grid-Grad stadium fund contest between East and West here today.

From the east, where the dope has been spilled time and again this year, come Nardacel and Ekberg, West Virginia luminaries, who tore up things in general for their alma mater Turkey day when they met Washington and Jefferson. Chicknosky, one of the best in the east this season, will be seen at half, a position he has filled so spectacularly at Lafayette this season. Others from the east include Koppisch of Columbia, prevoist of Penn State; Rae Crowther of Colgate and Waldorf of Syracuse.

From the west will come a dozen Big Ten stars, two Notre Dame flashes and several from the Ohio conference. Steger, Rockwell, Marion and Slaughter of Michigan; Kuter and Young of Ohio State; Hancock and Devine of Iowa and John Thomas of Chicago are among those in the limelight.

A record crowd is expected to attend the contest. Because 75 per cent of the players on the two teams are this season's players, all in the "pink" of condition, the game will undoubtedly be an unusual affair.

The two squares are as follows:

Eastern Team.
ENDS—Rae Crowther, Colgate; Archie Witt, Muhlenberg; Hines, Colgate; McKee, Syracuse; Graham, West Virginia; Watkins, Dartmouth; Hogsett, Dartmouth; Kriz, George Washington.

TACKLES—Weldersquirt, W. & J.; Shave, Tufts; Prevost, Penn State; Clements, W. & J.; R. Clark, Muhlenberg.

GUARDS—S. Crowther, Colgate; "Papa" Budd, Lafayette; N. Lee Frank, Pittsburgh; Grove, Muhlenberg.

QUARTERBACKS—Ashbaugh, Pittsburgh; J. Conway, Muhlenberg; W. Morgan, Colgate; Halsey Mills, Dartmouth; Kopf, W. & J. CENTERS—Phil Hill, W. Va.; M. Johnson, Pittsburgh.

FULLBACKS—Tallman, W. Va.; Calder, Dartmouth; Hadden, W. & J.; Ekberg, W. Va.; Mallory, Yale. HALFBACKS—Chicknosky, Lafayette; Eddie Casey, Harvard; Nardacel, W. Va.; Koppisch, Columbia; Basista, W. & J.

Big Ten Football Schedule Makers Complete Job Today

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Big Ten's 1925 football schedule was expected to be announced today at the close of the annual meeting of Conference representatives who have been in session here for two days. Three dates are virtually settled, the Chicago-Illinois clash on November 7, the Columbia-Ohio game on October 17 and the Illinois' opening game with Nebraska October 3.

Indications pointed to a rather stormy date-setting session today, one of the reasons being a growing tendency on the part of the larger schools to import opposition from the East and other parts of the country, thus leaving some of the smaller schools out in the cold. Under conference rules, however, each team shall play at least four Big Ten schools each season and shall meet every other team in the organization over a certain period of years.

16 SEEK JOBS ON WOOSTER SQUAD

WOOSTER, December 6.—A squad of sixteen basketball players reported to Coach L. C. Boles for the first practice of the season. Six of the candidates were letter men from last season. The opening work-outs consisted chiefly of fundamentals which the Wooster mentor will stress for a while.

Boles will attempt to build up a better scoring machine than he had last season. He will have Mitchell and Pfeiffer as forwards from last year. Love and Dodez, a fast pair of forwards from last year's Fresh five will give the letter men plenty of competition. McVicker, Smith and Hole, a brother of Freshman Coach E. M. Hole also aspire to a berth on the squad.

"Rosie" Starn has the call for the center place. However he will have plenty of competition for his position. Anderson, Shaw, High and Cleveland is a rangy player who is a good jumper and splendid defense man. Gee, of Youngstown is another candidate to be reckoned.

Captain Hurst, Manly and Langell are letter men back who play the defense places. The addition of McGlashan of Canton McKinley and Critchfield from Wooster High gives Boles some guards of high calibre.

Coach Boles would make no statements as to the strength of the squad. He prefers to hold judgment until he has seen some of the combinations in a game. The Wooster squad will open the season December 19 with the Firestones at Akron. During the holidays Boles will trek to western New York with his squad.

CENTERS—Vick, Michigan; "Tee" Young, Ohio State; Holtkamp, Ohio State; "Weeds" Mason, Akron, U. Jack Davis, Western Reserve.

HALFBACKS—Devine, Iowa; Martineau, Minnesota; R. Fletcher, Illinois; Storn, Wooster; Gribben, Case; Weber, Oberlin; Steger, Michigan; Slater, Iowa; Jenkins, Akron.

FULLBACK—Stringer, John Carroll.

WEST PICKING EAST TO WIN

Expect Penn, Notre Dame and Syracuse to Finish on Top.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—Down through the years that Eastern and Western football teams have clashed in post-season tilts, the boys from the land of the setting sun have had an edge, but this year should be the exception.

The East should even things up pretty well this season.

In the three big intersectional tilts scheduled on California grounds after the close of the regular playing season, the invaders look best to cop honors.

For the Westerns believe California cannot beat the University of Pennsylvania, University of Southern California cannot defeat Syracuse, and the Leland Stanford team, which plays Notre Dame, is due for a good soaking.

In Berkeley, where the Golden Bears battle Pennsylvania New Year's day, Coach Andy Smith, who for four years has produced the best eleven on the Pacific Coast, has battled with green material all season, finally producing a winning eleven, but one considered too inexperienced to defeat the powerful Easterners.

When Syracuse plays the University of Southern California here Dec. 6, the Orange team will have a decided edge, Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson, of the Western university, has failed to turn out a team better than a second-rate outfit. His showing in the Pacific Coast Conference has started a strong movement among alumni of the Los Angeles college demanding Henderson's retirement.

Coach Knute Rockne's powerful Notre Dame eleven is regarded as having a decided edge on Leland Stanford in the annual Tournament of Roses tilt at Pasadena on New Year's day. That no Pacific Coast team is as great a scoring machine as the Indiana outfit is conceded everywhere in this neck of the woods.

Even with the three expected defeats of the season, however, the West will still be about "even Steven" with the East in intersectional contests.

Among the important games played in the past, scores were as follows:

Year	Team	Score
1889	Carlisle Indians-California	2-0
1894	Stanford-Chicago	12-6
1902	Michigan-Stanford	34-0
1916	Brown Washington State	0-14
1917	U. of P.-U. of Oregon	0-14
1920	Harvard-Oregon	7-6
1921	Ohio State-California	0-28
1922	Wash. & Jeff-California	0-0
1923	Penn State-California	3-14
1924	(New Year's day) Navy-U. of Washington	0-0

SYRACUSE-U. S. C., PRIMED FOR TILT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 6.—Primed to the point of physical perfection, football teams of Syracuse and University of Southern California were scheduled to meet here today in the first of a series of intersectional post season tilts which Californians will witness this winter.

It rained all through the night but clearer skies were forecast for today and it was announced the game would be played rain or shine. The cool weather was considered a big factor in favor of the Orange team, which was expected to show plenty of speed without the usual California sunshine heating down.

Outweighed several pounds to the man, the invading rangemen were slight favorites, although the Californians were heavily backed to win.

WEST PICKING EAST TO WIN

Expect Penn, Notre Dame and Syracuse to Finish on Top.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—Down through the years that Eastern and Western football teams have clashed in post-season tilts, the boys from the land of the setting sun have had an edge, but this year should be the exception.

The East should even things up pretty well this season.

In the three big intersectional tilts scheduled on California grids today after the close of the regular playing season, the invaders look best to cop honors.

For the Westerns believe California cannot beat the University of Pennsylvania, University of Southern California cannot defeat Syracuse, and the Leland Stanford team, which plays Notre Dame, is due for a good showing.

In Berkeley, where the Golden Bears battle Pennsylvania New Year's day, Coach Andy Smith, who for four years has produced the best eleven on the Pacific Coast, has battled with green material all season, finally producing a winning eleven, but one considered too inexperienced to defeat the powerful Easterners.

When Syracuse plays the University of Southern California here Dec. 6, the Orange team will have a decided edge, Coach "Gloomy" Gus Henderson, of the Western university, has failed to turn out a team better than a second-rate outfit. His showing in the Pacific Coast Conference has started a strong movement among alumni of the Los Angeles college demanding Henderson's retirement.

Coach Knute Rockne's powerful Notre Dame eleven is regarded as having a decided edge on Leland Stanford in the annual Tournament of Roses tilt at Pasadena on New Year's day. That no Pacific Coast team is as great a scoring machine as the Indiana outfit is conceded everywhere in this neck of the woods.

Even with the three expected defeats of the season, however, the West will still be about "even Steven" with the East in intersectional contests.

Among the important games played in the past, scores were as follows:

Year	Team	Score
1899	Carlisle Indians-California	2-0
1894	Stanford-California	12-6
1902	Michigan-Stanford	34-0
1916	Brown-Washington State	0-14
1917	U. of P.-U. of Oregon	0-14
1920	Harvard-Oregon	7-6
1921	Ohio State-California	0-28
1922	Wash. & Jeff-California	0-10
1923	Penn State-California	3-0
1924	(New Year's day) Navy-U. of Washington	0-0

An attempt is being made to raise grouse in New Zealand, the birds being imported.

SYRACUSE-U. S. C., PRIMED FOR TILT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 6.—Primed to the point of physical perfection, football teams of Syracuse and University of Southern California were scheduled to meet here today in the first of a series of intersectional post season tilts which Californians will witness this winter.

It rained all through the night but clearer skies were forecast for today and it was announced the game would be played rain or shine. The cool weather was considered a big factor in favor of the Orange team, which was expected to show plenty of speed without the usual California sunshine beating down.

Outweighed several pounds to the man, the invading rangemen were slight favorites, although the Californians were heavily backed to win. Lineup:

EAST END

MANY TO ATTEND MEMORIAL SERVICE

Number of East End residents will attend the annual memorial service under the auspices of East Liverpool Lodge No. 258, B. P. O. E., tomorrow afternoon at the Ceramic theatre.

The memorial address will be delivered by Dr. John Wesley Hill of Washington, D. C., chancellor of the Lincoln Memorial University at Cumberland Gap, Tenn.

To Conduct Conference.

Rev. Dr. Powell, district superintendent, will pay his first visit to this section of the city next Tuesday evening when he will conduct quarterly conference.

New System of Fat Reduction

Here is a new way for all fat people to reduce. A new way to rid yourself easily and quickly of the burdensome fat which makes you miserable. Why should you let yourself go, resigning yourself to being fat, when by using Marmola Prescription Tablets you can become slender again? Thousands of men and women each year regain healthy, slender figures this way. You, too, can take off your excess flesh in this same pleasant manner. No need for violent exercises or starvation diets. Just take one small Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and before going to bed. In a very short time your flabby flesh will begin to disappear and soon you will become the proud possessor of a slender, shapely figure. You will never be admired as long as you are fat—for fat people are always being made fun of. But don't let that worry you anymore. One of the foremost physicians of his time discovered the Marmola Prescription for fat reduction and he also conceived the idea of putting it up in the convenient tablet form. All you have to do is to go to your drugist and get a box. Or if you prefer, send the price—one dollar—to the Marmola Company, General Motors Building, Detroit, Mich., and a box will be sent to you postpaid. Start taking these pleasant little tablets now—you will always be glad that you decided to try them. Many of your friends have used them successfully.

2,500 People Aid In Making DeMille's "Ten Commandments"

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the Ceramic theatre, local cinema patrons and theatregoers will have their first opportunity to see "The Ten Commandments," the most widely discussed of moving pictures, which is this season being shown by touring companies in regular play-houses only. In filming Jeanie Mac-

Pherson's colorful narrative of ancient Egypt and modern San Francisco, Cecil B. De Mille employed the services of 2,500 people and caused to be erected mammoth replicas of several masterpieces of Egyptian architecture. The costuming of these hosts of players; the building of hundreds of chariots; the making of ancient harness and arms, and the construction of devices for such stupendous effects as the parting of the waters of the Red Sea, were the work of many months and supervised by noted archaeologists and Biblical authorities. adv.
